PM, Premiers Open Talks On Jobless Relief

Progress Reported
After First Session

BY JOHN LEBLANC
OTTAWA (CP)—Federal and provincial authorities met today in a conference on jobless relief but reached no conclusions at a morning meeting.

Information said the first session was devoted to hearing an outline from Prime Minister St. Laurent of a federal proposal for sharing in relief costs and to subsequent presentation of the views of all provinces.

Asked by reporters to comment on the morning meeting, Mr. St. Laurent said:

"We just talked."

STRETCHES INTO TUESDAY

The conference recessed at 1 p.m. to resume at 2:30 p.m. It likely will stretch into Tuesday.

Persons attending the conference said Mr. St. Laurent set out a federal plan whereby the central treasury would help in the cost of relief above a floor of 1 per cent of the population—150,000—regarded as normally unemployed for physical reasons.

The federal share would start at 30 per cent of the cost and rise to a maximum of 50 per cent as unemployment intensified.

Conferees said the initial meeting was conducted in an atmosphere of amicability. There was no attempt to nail down an agreement at this meeting, which was confined to a preliminary expression of views.

MAKE GOOD START

Premier Bennett of British Columbia said there was a good start and a good approach at the meeting.

B.C. Traffic Death

CHILLIWACK (BUP)—Thomas Pickering, 40, South Burnaby, died early Sunday when his car went out of control on the Trans-Canada Highway near here and hit a telephone pole.

Police said his wife suffered only minor injuries.

Ike Calls on World To Still Its Guns

U.S. Leader in New Appeal for Peace
Before Anniversary Meeting of UN

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—President Eisenhower today called on East and West to still their guns and disarm "the terrible apparatus of fear and distrust and weapons" erected since the Second World War.

Mr. Eisenhower appeared at the start of a 10th anniversary meeting of the United Nations here where the UN was born in 1945.

The president's address also was a prelude to the July meeting of the Big Four—U.S., Great Britain, France and Russia—in Switzerland.

Mr. Eisenhower proposed as man's objective for the next decade a new kind of peace, a new kind of world thinking.

"In that life the atom, dedicated once as man's slayer, will become his most productive servant," he said. "It will be a peace to inspire confidence and faith so that all peoples will be released from the dread fear of war. Scientists will be liberated to work always for men, never against them."

In the president's audience in the San Francisco opera house today was V. M. Molotov, the Russian foreign minister and a long-standing opponent of Western policies.

The president made no direct reference to Russian policy, nor did he refer to communism. But he said that the United States and "a majority of all nations" were united in the hope that every government would abstain from "subversion, coercion, infiltration or destruction of other governments."

RESPECT FOR OTHERS

"We, with the rest of the world, know that a nation's vision of peace cannot be attained through any race in armaments," Mr. Eisenhower said in his prepared text. "The munitions of peace are justice, honesty, mutual understanding and respect for others."

Early in his speech, he pointed out that within a month, there would be a Big Four meeting.

"Whether or not we shall then reach the initial decisions that will start dismantling the terrible apparatus of fear and mistrust and weapons erected since the end of the Second

Peron to Quit Argentina Dictatorship?

Just 'Figurehead'
In New Army Junta
Says N.Y. Times

NEW YORK (CP)—The New York Times says the fall of Juan Peron as "dictator" of Argentina may take place in "a matter of hours."

This was the indication the Times gained in a telephone conversation Sunday with its correspondent in Buenos Aires, Edward A. Morrow, it says in a front-page report.

"General Peron's resignation was expected Saturday night but did not materialize," Morrow reported. "Gen. Franklin Lucero, army minister, is acting as spokesman for the government and appears to have taken over the reins, he added."

JUST A FIGUREHEAD

"In any new government that might be formed, Mr. Morrow said, Peron probably would retain his title as president but would be reduced to a figurehead."

A junta to take over the government appeared to be in the making, The Times says. It probably would be headed by Lucero, former Argentine delegate to the United Nations General Assembly.

"The stumbling block to the establishment of a junta, which would include leaders of all branches of the armed services, was the navy. Mr. Morrow said the present ruling army command was negotiating with the navy to effect a governing coalition."

2 Years for Drugs

VANCOUVER (BUP)—Possession of more than 50 capsules of drugs resulted in a two-year sentence being imposed on Arthur F. Walton, a waiter, in city police court today.

MARGARET SURPRISED?

'H.R.H. Honey' Just
'Ma'am' to Danny

HONEY?

NO MA'AM!

LONDON (UP)—Danny Kaye today denied reports he had called Princess Margaret "Honey."

The allegation was made by Sunday Pictorial columnist Rex North who headlined his outraged dispatch "H.R.H. Honey."

Even the princess' best friends call her "Your Royal Highness" or "Ma'am"—including her male escorts.

But columnist North said comedian Kaye greeted her backstage at the Palladium with "hello, honey. I didn't expect to see you back here."

The Pictorial asked: "H.R.H. Honey... taken aback... swallowed once or twice and countered, 'If a little limply, with 'Hello Danny!'"

Not so, Kaye said today. He said it was untrue that he greeted his royal admirer with such a familiar word as honey—"I know better than that. I call the princess 'Ma'am.'"

"Why they drag things up like that I don't know," he said. "It's not funny."

Not only that, he said, but "these silly rumors annoy me."

Kaye has long been on comparatively intimate terms with the princess—he has danced with her and given command performances. She has often called him her favorite entertainer.

The columnist commented: "In my view there are times when it is permissible to call a woman honey—if you happen to know the sort who doesn't mind this sort of saccharine sweet endearment."

"There are other moments in history, when speaking quite personally, I would address the young lady concerned as Ma'am. The moment would have been at the theatre after the show."

"I should add that in America any woman of any rank who has been met socially a few times is almost automatically a honey."

U.K. DOCKERS BACK; SEAMEN STILL OUT

(From AP and UP Dispatches)

LONDON—Striking dockers in the port of London today ended their five-week wildcat strike, and there were signs of an early end to the seamen's strike clogging trans-Atlantic liners in other major ports.

The Eden government, spurred by fears the dollar-earning tourist trade will be ruined, warned draft-age crewmen they'll lose army deferment if they don't return to their jobs. At Liverpool, a good many returned to their ships during the day.

In a similar move, Cunard sued strike leaders for loss of revenue.

Cunard hopes to break the strike before the giant Queen Elizabeth docks at Southampton tonight from New York.

2-Year Truce On Wages for IWA, Fishmen

Loggers Get 5c Each Year;
Salmon Price at 24c Pound

By DAVE STOCK

British Columbia's bread-winning industries—forests and fisheries—are assured of labor peace during the next two years.

Contracts running into 1957 were negotiated during the week-end on behalf of 32,000 loggers and 6,000 salmon fishermen.

The International Woodworkers of America (CCLCIO) concluded three weeks' negotiation with representatives of 168 coast operators by agreeing to a two-year contract providing loggers with a five-cent-an-hour wage hike this year, retroactive to June 15, and another five cents in June, 1956.

The negotiating committee of the United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union (Ind.) settled with the cannery companies on the basis of a two-cent-a-pound increase for sockeye salmon. The increase puts the price at 24 cents a pound and marks the first time the industry has negotiated a salmon-price contract exceeding a year.

Both loggers and fishermen have to vote this week to ratify the settlements reached by their negotiators and passage is regarded as a certainty.

The new IWA contract provides loggers with one extra statutory holiday with pay—Dominion Day—this year, and another—New Year's Day—next year.

Employees, of which there are 1,500 in the Victoria area represented by local 1-118, International Woodworkers of America, asked for a 10 cents an hour across the board wage hike, three additional paid statutory holidays, medical health plan, partial pay fare allowance and other changes.

Present basic rate of pay in the lumber industry is $1.49.

There has been no strike in the B.C. forest since 1952.

Satisfaction in the assurance of "peace in the coastal lumber industry for at least two years," was expressed by labor minister Lyle Wicks on behalf of the government.

Searchers Mass In New Hunt for Lost B.C. Plane

VANCOUVER (CP)—Twenty planes were thrown into the search today for a plane missing for a week with four men aboard.

Search officials restored their full attention to the missing Pacific Western Airlines float plane after spotting the wreckage of an American plane on a mountain 25 miles east of Vancouver Sunday. Body of the pilot, Frederick H. Atkinson of New York city was recovered.

Today's sweep over the rugged coastal area between Ocean Falls and Kemano was the second full-scale search since the single-engine Cessna 180 disappeared Tuesday on a 140-mile timber survey flight.

Those aboard the float plane included Chris Langkilde-Lavigne and Henry Jelinek, both of Victoria.

Blood-Soaked Car Found in Vancouver —But No Victim

VANCOUVER (CP)—A mystery car, its upholstery soaked in blood, was found abandoned in wooded Stanley Park here early today, wrapped around a tree.

Police said the driver apparently had been thrown through the windshield but that no one had been admitted to hospital from the wreck scene.

Giant Wind Injures 30, Levels School, Homes In 2 Terrible Minutes

By WALTER GRAY, Canadian Press Staff Writer

VITA, Man. (CP)—A giant finger of wind dropped from cloud-blackened skies Sunday and in two terrible minutes tore the heart out of this southeastern Manitoba farming community.

In that space of time, at least 30 terrified residents were injured.

Six or more homes were destroyed. A six-roomed school collapsed in a jagged heap of brick and wood. A 25-bed hospital, the town's only hotel, bakery, church mission, drug store and church were badly damaged.

What was left of a general store and three of the homes were burned to the ground. A funeral parlor vanished. A lumber yard was scattered for blocks. Cars were upended on the street. Trees were uprooted.

The town of 400 lay helpless for hours, its contact with the rest of the world silenced by shattered communications.

Throughout the night police and volunteer workers probed the darkness with flashlights, checking tottering buildings for any other persons who might have been missed in earlier confusion.

The RCMP turned back hundreds of sightseers at the outskirts of this town 50 miles southwest of Winnipeg as the search went on.

Tony Smyrzhinsky's warehouse just disappeared. So did Loeven's funeral parlor.

At the south end of the street the three-storey Vita hotel and the Greek Orthodox church stood brokenly. There were no bakery walls but Modest Kadymin's oven was there, the partly-baked bread still inside.

In the early-morning hours a few of the dazed residents stood by the wreckage, quietly trying to recall those terrible two minutes of hail, screaming winds and flying daggers of glass and wood.

Fire Sweeps Shattered Homes

At the end of one street the hospital stood in the dark, its roof caved in, its windows shattered.

Ten patients and the hospital staff who were in the building when the rare prairie tornado struck at 4:30 p.m. apparently escaped injury. The home of Dr. H. V. Waldon and the United Church mission house next to it were badly damaged.

Next, the lumber yard—a confusing woodpile. The Shewchewko school—a jagged mound of debris.

Fire broke out in the shattered shell that was the home of Nick Pudloski 10 hours later and volunteer firemen, with no water at hand, were forced to rip out the burning wood and toss it to the ground.

Frame House Tossed 70 Feet

Roy Ridley, 31-year-old bus driver, his wife and two children, Cynthia, 3 and Rodney, 2, to Morris. Also in Morris hospital is 14-year-old Jean Cemiutuk who suffered an arm injury.

Modest Kadymin ran from the hotel to his bakery next door to warn his four employees. He herded them into the cellar just before the building collapsed.

Restaurant operator John Bodnarchuk was serving customers when he saw the tunnel-shaped cloud "with clouds around it swirling like crazy" roaring down the street. He hid behind a refrigerator as a wooden beam crashed through the window and flying debris filled the store.

Battered Town Isolated 3 Hours

Mat Fostle, a Vita truck driver, took the first news of the disaster to the outside world. He drove to M. Harbul's store, eight miles west and asked Mrs. Harbul to telephone the RCMP saying the town desperately needed a fire truck, ambulance and other help. The first police arrived on the scene about three hours after the tornado struck.

Meanwhile, at Winnipeg, Manitoba Red Cross officials said the organization had been "put on the alert" by the RCMP and was ready to supply emergency housing, food, clothing and medical services if required.

Vancouver Kills Job Relief Plan

VANCOUVER (BUP)—City council decided today to cut off all relief payments July 15 for more than 1,000 unemployed single men.

Aldermen were told that the relief plan had cost the city

$38,000 since the start of the year although only $15,000 had been allotted for the program.

Ald. Anna Scott said Premier W. A. C. Bennett had refused to consider proposals for a work program for the single unemployed.

SAT—TERRIFIED IN THE DARKNESS

Family Prayed for Assistance As Wind Ripped Home Apart

By WALTER GRAY

VITA, Man. (CP)—Ugly, black clouds swept over the horizon and blotted out the sun.

Bill Wakimischak and his 13-year-old son Miron decided to cut short their Father's Day fishing expedition on the Red River and hurry home to Vita, nine miles away.

At home the town druggist's wife and two daughters, Donna, nine, and Barbara, four, were watching the swirling "mass overhead."

The sky grew blacker as Bill and Miron reached the house. Suddenly Bill spotted a long waving finger dangling from the cloud mass.

"It's a tornado!" he shouted to his family.

Miron drew the drapes across the living room window. His mother grabbed a fern and walked over to set it on the sofa.

"It all happened in a split second," said Mrs. Wakimischak. "The next thing I knew I was under the kitchen table, my hands and knees bleeding, and screaming."

Bill was struck by a flying kitchen chair. Barbara was cut by the door handle as she was thought was a piece of the living room window. Donna and Miron were bleeding about the head.

Somehow, Mr. Wakimischak grabbed his wife and children and pushed them into the cellar.

The family sat terrified in the darkness as their house shook over their head.

Barbara felt the blood trickling down her face and said: "Oh won't you take me to the hospital?"

Donna prayed: "Oh please God, why don't you help me? Why don't you help me?"

Suddenly it grew deathly still. The Wakimischaks waited a few moments, then climbed the cellar stairs. They were awed and sick at the sight.

The walls of the house were still standing, the roof was still on but not a window was left. The furniture was smashed and overturned. What was still in one piece they moved outside.

They joined their friends and neighbors in disbelief. Bill crawled into the remains of his drug store and retrieved bandages and antiseptics for the wounded.

Help finally arrived. The Wakimischaks were driven to the Steinbach hospital for treatment. But none stayed long. By late Sunday night they returned to Vita for another look. After midnight they drove to stay with friends who escaped with lesser damage.

"As long as we have a roof over our head, we'll feel lucky," said Mrs. Wakimischak.

Power for DEW Line
May Be From A-Plants

(From CP and BUP Dispatches)

Electrical energy for operation of the DEW distant early warning radar line in the Arctic may be provided by atomic power plants, it was disclosed today.

Provision for construction of such plants by the United States, which is building the line, is contained in two Canada-U.S. agreements signed today. The agreements, signed in Washington June 15, provide for a wider exchange of information between the two countries on defence against atomic attack and development of atomic energy for peaceful purposes, particularly in construction of power plants.

The agreements stipulate that the U.S. will not provide Canada with information on military-type atomic energy reactors until they are deemed to warrant civil application. However, there is one exception—atomic power plants which might be used on the DEW line.

Fuel Costs Will Be High

A government official said the provision was included in case the U.S. decides to use atomic power plants to provide the DEW line with electric energy.

The DEW line—estimated to cost $25,000,000—will be built along the northern mainland coast. The eastern end will be on Baffin island and, generally, the line will run along the 70th parallel.

The cost of transporting conventional types of fuel in the area will be high, the official said. "The agreement provides for U.S. construction of atomic power plants, if such a decision is made by the U.S. The section also means that information on the construction of such plants will be made available to Canada."

The board of transport commissioners is considering authorizing the railways to increase freight rates on grain moving within the West to the domestic market. Transport Minister Marler said today.

The Canadian Press reported last Thursday the board plans two increases of 10 per cent each, the first to be ordered early in the second year or more later.

Mr. Marler made his statement in reply to a question Friday from Hazen Argue CCF-Assiniboia.

Logging Firms
Violate Safety
Rules, Fined

VANCOUVER (CP) — Two logging companies, found guilty of violating forest safety regulations, were fined during the week-end as the B.C. Forest Service began its 1955 campaign against fire in the woods.

Two firms near Boston Bar, B.C., Pine Lake Lumber and R. and N. Logging Co., were fined $25 and costs for failing to provide fire-fighting equipment in accordance with the Forest Act.

MARILYN BELL CHANNEL SWIM DIARY

Gold Platters Big as Wheels
Dazzle Eye in London Tower

(Marilyn Bell, the 11-year-old Toronto girl who is in England preparing to swim the English Channel, is writing a diary. She is now in Epsom, Surrey. Today's installment tells of her final day in London.)

By MARILYN BELL

I can hardly read my notes tonight.

I made them on a bit of paper while I was going around the Tower of London, because I knew if I didn't I'd forget everything.

This is the best day I've had in London, except for my training. The training didn't go very well. My stomach was sore and I had to fight all the time to stay in the water.

I swam at the bath for about an hour and a half and I was very slow. The last few minutes I began to feel better. Gus wasn't pleased and neither was Joan.

I certainly have a lot of work to do before I swim the Channel. On our way back from the pool we passed a flower stall right in the road. It was covered with iris and roses and cornflowers and things. And they were so cheap.

I just had to get out of the taxi and get some for our hotel room. I bought a bouquet for a couple of shillings (a shilling is only 14 cents). I got Gus a daisy for his buttonhole.

SNIPPY MAID

When I got back to the hotel I laid the bouquet on the bed and forgot it when I went down to lunch. I passed the maid in the hall and asked her if she'd put it in water. She said: "Where is it?" and I told her on the bed. "Well, that's a fine place for it," she said, quite snippy. "Why didn't you put it in the basin?"

The maid's name is Nellie, and she is a real character. When she came into the room this morning she said: "My, it's 'umid today!"

"It must be nice to live among so many historical things," I said to Nellie.

She looked at me and said: "Oh, it never bothers us none. We just go on as if nothing had happened."

Nellie's only seen the Royal family from the hotel window. She says they sometimes come by the hotel on their way to the Guildhall. Then everyone runs to the windows. She's never even been close to Buckingham Palace.

I think I've been there a dozen times already.

In the afternoon, I turned the tables and took my own camera with me to take pictures of other people. A very nice woman from the British Travel Association called for us in a car and took us to the Tower of London.

It really looks just like the pictures of it and I wasn't a bit disappointed. Everything is just as I expected it to be.

I wanted to see the "Bloody Tower" where Mary Queen of Scots was, and the Traitor's Gate, because I remembered it from a picture in my history book.

We had to stand in line to get into the room where the Crown jewels are kept.

As we were standing there, the sun came out and it was really lovely. It got hot. We couldn't believe it.

When we came into the room where the Crown jewels were, we could hardly see for a moment. They were dazzling. Me and my 16 little diamonds in my watch. There must have been more diamonds in that case than in the whole of United States and Canada. It was wonderful.

There was the Imperial Crown that Queen Elizabeth wore at the Coronation and you see in all the pictures.

It has a great big diamond in the front and the Black Prince's ruby and at the top Edward the Confessor's sapphire.

There were gold salt cellars, India crown the best. The jewels in it weren't so big, but it was prettier. The poor Queen must have had an awfully stiff neck after wearing that big heavy one for almost an hour at the Coronation.

I like the little Empress of

Father Finds Children Slain, Wife Wounded

Babies Battered With Rolling Pin

SEATTLE (AP)—A critically injured mother, eight months pregnant, lay near death Sunday as police pressed their investigation into the brutal slaying of her two young sons.

Detectives said Thomas W. Reimers, 5, and Gerald John Reimers, 1, were found slain in the older boy's crib early Sunday. They said it appeared both had been battered with a rolling pin found in the crib and slashed with a butcher knife.

Their mother, Josephine, 29, was found critically wounded on the floor of her bedroom. Police said she had been slashed on the throat, wrists and groin. A bloody butcher knife lay nearby. The tragedy was discovered shortly before 1 a.m. by her husband, Charles Reimers, 30, when he arrived home after being away since Saturday afternoon.

A FATHER-AND-SON INVESTITURE took place Friday at Deep Cove Wolf Cub Pack. Russel L. Ridge was invested as Cub leader of the 23-boy pack. Minutes later he performed the ceremony making his son, Raymond, left, a Wolf Cub. Mrs. Ridge and another son, David, six, were present for the occasion. Jim Redwood, group Scoutmaster, also attended. District Akela Winnie Bennett invested Cubmaster Ridge.

Star Newsman Held 36 Hours Without Food

TORONTO (CP)—Toronto Star correspondent Douglas Blanchard says in a dispatch from Buenos Aires that he was kept 36 hours in an Argentine prison after police stopped him taking pictures of last Thursday's revolt.

He says he stood in a black Maria patrol wagon jammed with 45 persons including a bishop and other clergy.

"We were taken to prison. I had to go without food or water for 36 hours and I would have been there for an indefinite period in the future if the Roman Catholic prisoners had not smuggled out a message which reached Maj. Gen. L. R. La Fleche, Canadian ambassador, at 6 p.m. Friday.

"He moved heaven and earth from then until midnight and swore at the highest government officials before he compelled them to release me."

"I was suspected of starting the revolution because I arrived in the country just before the outbreak, was at the spot where the bombs landed, and stayed there taking pictures."

"I am attempting to leave the country and the Canadian embassy is making every attempt to get me out."

Hemorrhoids

(PILES)

European Research Scientists Develop New Formula Small Supply Reaches Canadian Market

When Dr. Laboratories of Zurich, Switzerland, solved after ten years of intensive research, the many diversified problems and obstacles that have confronted the processing of two vital substances, an entirely new field of treatment lay at the hands of their research chemists. Their products, now selling under the name of "P 99" have brought about some of the most staggering results in the treatment of certain skin diseases.

Today, and for the first time, people who are troubled with the distressing symptoms associated with hemorrhoids are now able to share the healing and soothing qualities that have been made possible through the intricate processing of Linolenic and Linoleic Acid.

Longest Eclipse in 1,238 Years Lengthened Five Minutes by Jets

Scientist Weeps as Clouds Blocks View; Hindus Fast, Filipinos Cheer Spectacle

From UP and AP Dispatches

The longest total eclipse in 1,238 years blacked out the sun in a 7,200-mile line stretching from Ceylon to the Philippines today, but clouds in many places foiled efforts at scientific observation.

U.S. air force jet planes with American scientists aboard raced the shadow of the moon five miles up today over the Philippines, stretching the unusually long seven-minute eclipse into nearly 12 minutes. The planes followed the eclipse at some 600 miles an hour.

A holiday was declared in Manila. Filipinos, strong enthusiasts of spectator sports, cheered the moon onto the final full eclipse as they would a football player on his way to a goal. A roar of approval welled up when the stars came out.

In India, hundreds of thousands of devout Hindus thronged the holy waters of sacred rivers to wash away the "evil effects" of the sun's obscuring. The Hindus believe it is caused by the god of evil temporarily overcoming the god of light. Many offices declared a holiday to let their employees bathe.

In Ceylon, the mid-day darkness raised a babel of noise in the jungles and astrologers terrified the population by predicting revolutions, plagues, pestilences, deaths and wars.

OBSERVATIONS BLOCKED As the lunar body cast its shadow across the fiery orb more than 400 times farther from the earth, heavy rain clouds blocked the view from Ceylon observation posts set up by most scientists, including a Canadian group. But only a light cloudy sky was over the central Ceylon spot where an American team from Harvard University waited. A spokesman said the phenomenon was fully visible for the four minutes that the eclipse was total, beginning about 8:10 a.m. (7:40 p.m. PDT) Sunday.

"We are quite happy," one of the Americans said. "Our experiments were very successful."

German technicians attached to a combined British-Ceylonese team wept copiously when a single black cloud obscured their view. They were trying to check theories of the late Albert Einstein and had brought with them a telescope designed for Potsdam University, where Einstein once taught.

The Harvard team took pictures of the sun's infra-red spectrum and another of the corona, the ring of incandescent hydrogen gas from the sun outlining the moon's shadow, in an effort to determine its precise shade.

Getting Ready for the Talks

SPECULATION ON THE TOPICS to be discussed at the meeting of Big Four heads of state in July has been wide and often contradictory.

Some subjects, such as the reunification of Germany, appear to be obvious, since little can be done in the way of permanent world settlement until they are successfully disposed of. Yet even here there is disagreement. One report had it that Russia would ignore the German problem and insist on all-out discussion of the Far East instead.

There is even a difference of opinion on the type of conference it is to be. President Eisenhower favors merely a discussion that would create an atmosphere of good will, and outline in very general terms the questions to be debated in greater detail at a later date by the Big Four foreign ministers.

Russia, however, is expected to prefer more intensive examination of certain problems. Britain and France tend to back the more generalized form of talks.

There is even some disagreement among the western allies as to an agenda. One of the topics which Washington feels ought to be brought up is the matter of Soviet domination of the east European satellites. The United States would like to have this situation rectified.

But Britain and France see the chances of failure at the conference greatly increased if the U.S. insists on this course. Russia in the first place is not likely to admit that there is domination. In the second place, dissolution of Moscow's empire would mean to all intents and purposes Soviet abandonment of the cold war and a complete reversal of communist policy over the past four decades.

In order to sort out some of these preliminary problems numerous meetings have been held during the last few weeks. In Washington, diplomatic experts of Britain, France and the United States met to work out agendas and arguments for later talks. These were the men behind the foreign ministers—the unseen and usually unheard officials who supply the data and recommendations upon which government policies are based.

Last week the western Big Three foreign ministers got together to plan their strategy for another meeting with Russia. Later West Germany's Chancellor Adenauer joined them.

This week, overshadowing in some ways the United Nations tenth anniversary gathering in San Francisco, Mr. Molotov will confer with Messrs. Pinay, MacMillan and Dulles on preparations for the summit talks in prospect. These four foreign ministers will lay the groundwork for their superiors, and the result of their deliberations may indicate in large measure what success is to be expected at Geneva in July.

To the layman such interminable talks may appear needless and overdone. But diplomacy is a delicate growth; there must be much preliminary hothouse cultivation before the plant is brought out into the clear light of day.

A protracted period of political activity is therefore in store, for after the summit meeting the foreign ministers will again convene to work out solutions suggested by their leaders.

The international atmosphere appears favorable. The talks have come at a time, and probably as a result, of the new Soviet "friendship" policy. Western diplomats see signs that in its current mood Moscow may be amenable to logic and discard the propaganda and posturings that have rendered so many previous meetings ineffective.

As the western foreign ministers moved from New York to San Francisco for the opening of today's United Nations program, they expressed hope that the coming months will produce much of benefit "toward the goal of peace." It is a hope that has been disappointed on many previous occasions; but it is also one that cannot be allowed to die.

A Birthday Celebrates Birth

LOCAL HISTORICAL DOVE-cotes are affluter with a manufactured controversy over the 100th birthday of British Columbia.

Exception is taken to the claim that Fort Langley became the birthplace in the year 1858. It is argued that British Columbia did not become British Columbia until the two colonies of Vancouver Island and British Columbia were joined in 1866 and that the area did not become a province until it entered confederation in 1871.

What does the record say? It says that several years after the establishment of the Crown Colony of Vancouver Island it was found expedient to establish the Crown Colony of British Columbia in 1858.

Before that date there was no British Columbia. The region between Vancouver Island and the Rockies was merely unorganized territory. But by act of the British Parliament in 1858 a substantial part of that territory was organized and given the name of British Columbia. That, surely, marked the birth of a new entity. That was the baby—and hence 1858, the time of the great Fraser gold rush, was the natal year.

It serves little purpose to argue that the 1858 British Columbia was not married at that time to Vancouver Island, or had not then attained the majority status of a province. If cognizance is to be taken of the later events, they are different anniversaries—a wedding anniversary, if you wish, when the two colonies were joined, a centennial celebration of coming of age when the 100th anniversary of Confederation arrives in 1971.

Victoria, of all places, should steer clear of controversy on the question. The historical background of this city is well established and unchallenged, predating mainland settlement and organized government. Querulous complaint against the centennial celebration of British Columbia's birth can suggest only a quarrelsome dotage on Victoria's part.

We might have done something a little more spectacular—ourselves in 1949 when the Crown Colony of Vancouver Island was 100 and we might, occasionally, give Nootka a genuflection, too.

Pilgrimage to Victoria High

NEXT THURSDAY EVENING hundreds of Victorians will pay their respects to Mr. Harry L. Smith, retiring principal of Victoria High School. The occasion will mark his official leave-taking from the school to which he came more than 40 years ago and of which he has been chief executive as well as teacher for half that time.

In this way his former students will express their gratitude for the contribution he has made to their lives, and through them the community will recognize the influence he has been in its improvement.

It is an impressive event when so large a number of people extend such an honor to one man. Yet the affair will not be out of balance to the service he has rendered.

It is a service which does not depend on his ability as a teacher in the academic sense alone. It is a service which has implanted in those who have come under him a high appreciation of virtues above and beyond the realms of study and scholarship—important as they are.

Mr. Harry Smith has been able to impart to hundreds of young people, at an age when they are particularly receptive, a high sense of integrity. He has applied his personality to inspire in them a deep appreciation for the dignity of the individual and for the essence of democracy. Under his guidance Victoria High School has established a shining reputation for its ability to integrate the young people of different races and creeds who have passed through its doors as students.

Because it is his nature, Harry Smith may be somewhat embarrassed by the show of appreciation extended to him this week. In his own opinion, he has only done a job as he thought it should be done, with the help of an excellent staff.

His community places a higher estimate on his accomplishments, recognizing that his staff, with whom he is ever ready to share credit, has been able to travel along a successful course because he was there to chart it.

When he walks for the last time as principal from the building to which he came when it was new and he was young, he will have every reason for satisfaction. That is what Thursday evening's home-coming students will be assuring him.

The Golden Gate Revisited

Chips

BY DAVID BROCK

I'VE been having a look at a really wonderful book called "The Yachtsman's Weekend Book," by John Irving and Douglas Service. It is a most readable miscellany on seamanship, weather, pilotage, signals, cookery, drink, fishing, songs, and all sorts of other matters. Please take my word for it that if you are a yachtsman or if you give presents to yachtsmen, you had better buy it. The price in England is 12 shillings and sixpence, which is $1.75. Needless to say, that will not be the price in a Canadian shop! But whatever you pay, you'll be getting a tremendous amount of entertainment and information.

Brock

IN my first few minutes with the book, I learnt a great many things I'd not known before. For example, I learnt that the bowline knot is not quite so useful as I had thought, since it reduces the strength of the rope to (guess what?) 10 per cent! Not 10 per cent, TO 10 per cent. A round turn and two half hitches reduces the rope's strength to 73 per cent. In other words, it will bear seven times the strain with the same piece of rope.

And I learnt that a ship does not fly a flag, she wears it. Her owner flies it. I dare say some of you know this, and maybe I knew it once myself, but I had forgotten it along with so many other things. I'm not grumbling, mind you, about the number of things I have forgotten. The more things you can remember, the more you increase your chance of being a nuisance to yourself and others. Not that remembering a thing wrong is always a blessing.

AND I learnt that the high reputation of lime juice among old sailors, as an anti-scorbutic, was a bit of a joke. The lime juice which prevented scurvy so effectively, and which led to British sailors being called Limejuicers, and hence the modern term Limey... this stuff was indeed called "lime juice." But it just so happens that it was made from Sicilian lemons, which have an extremely high content of Vitamin C. About a hundred years ago the sailors, in their trusting way, "switched to West Indian limes, which have a very low Vitamin C content. And from then on, it didn't do them much good at all. I suppose it doesn't matter now, when we can carry vitamins around in our pockets. But I do think that anyone who gets pleasure from calling his English cousin a Limey should try calling him a Lemmy, or perhaps a Lemming. It would be a less scurvy name.

NAMES

I UNDERSTAND that the Australians refer to the English as Poms or Pommes. I don't know why. If anyone knows, please speak up. Somebody told me it was probably because the English eat so many potatoes, or pommes de terre. This doesn't sound very clever, but few nicknames do. To give a man a nickname is one of the most modest things you can do, because it almost inevitably makes you yourself sound like a complete nitwit. A good nickname is a wonderful thing, mind you, but the gift of inventing it is (I should think) a good deal rarer than the knack of writing decent verse or painting agreeable pictures. In other words, most chaps should leave it alone.

BY the way, my mother used to tell me that a nickname was a sure sign of popularity. She didn't say this just to cheer me up; she honestly believed it, and got great comfort from it. Little did she know. I was unable to argue my side of the case properly, because some of the names I got at school were too embarrassing for their victim to repeat. They seem funny now, but they didn't then. At any rate, they were invented and used, not by boys who liked me, but by boys who loathed and abominated me. To call these names signs of popularity would be like saying that when a libel or slander holds you up to hatred, ridicule and contempt, it means this is your Lucky Day, and means its utterer is your devoted slave. It is like saying that if a member of the opposite sex calls you a rotten little skunk, it means he or she is planning to marry you.

WELL, it's little I care now. Except for one thing. If I'd only known at the time, some of the names given to me revealed a good deal about their inventors. For example, one of the mildest names for me was "Teacher's Boy," whew, whew. This whistling effect was meant to indicate a slight speech defect I had, or was said to have, which supplied a kind of obligato to my reading aloud. Now, you would think this name would be hurled at me first by a boy who stayed at the foot of the class and who was a great foe of scholarship, teachers, reading aloud, and education in general. But not a bit of it. He wanted to be "Teacher's Boy" (an ambition of which I was singularly free) and he wanted to rank first and read beautifully and so on. In other words, he was merely jealous, though I was nothing to be jealous of. But I didn't realize it at the time. Heck, still, it will soothe me a little if he is reading this now.

DEAD SILENCE

DESCRIBING a still, still evening, a pal of mine said "It was so quiet, you could hear a coughdrop."

As Our Readers See It

MORE TO IT

There is much more to the question of the building of a $1,000,000 civic auditorium than has so far been expressed.

Victoria's experiences with the building of the Arena should demand that the matter be looked into very carefully. In the event of losses in building or operation Victoria would as usual be left "holding the bag" and the surrounding municipalities, while getting their full share of the benefits would most likely not agree to paying their share on a per capita basis.

An auditorium and convention center is undoubtedly needed.

If the Provincial Government were to pay its taxes on its land and buildings in the city, which have been estimated at $250,000 per annum Victoria could then reasonably safely proceed with the building of a civic center and other projects so badly needed.

Alderman Murdoch's suggestion that we proceed cautiously and that all these facts be considered is well taken.

KINDNESS

I appreciate the kindness shown to me at the Royal Jubilee hospital recently which was my first time in a hospital although I am over 60 years of age.

The nurses were so cheery and willing to help and we had lots of visits from ministers; Dr. Rowell from Central Baptist church brought a kind message in a tract, the minister from St. Luke's church came when we were feeling bored and gave us a word of cheer and a happy smile; also the Chaplain of the hospital prayed for us and visited us every week.

When I go anywhere, I always ask God for a promise from the Promise Box. This time I got Psalm 143:8 "Cause me to hear Thy loving kindness in the morning, for in Thee do I trust." Sometimes we receive healing without a doctor and sometimes through medical aid but always it is "I am the Lord that health thee."

DAVY WILL PASS TOO

Cheer up, Ruth Enke. The Davy Crockett craze will wear off. A few weeks from now the coonskin cap will be "Oh, that old thing." It's a good, clean story, and there's always a hit song. Is this one any worse than some of the others? (See how many of them you can remember.) Did you worry when the kids played they were the Lone Ranger? I don't think he was a Canadian, either. How about cowboys, spacemen, racing-car drivers, pilots? Kids are always pretending to be somebody.

Sure, a lot of our entertainment comes from the States. So do our watches come from Switzerland. If you make a better mousetrap...

The kids don't look at television as a sinister bogey man from Mars. It's something to be enjoyed occasionally and shut off often than you'd think. They don't swallow everything they see and hear either. They have just as much a mind of their own as when Davy Crockett was killing his bar.

It's bad enough to have wars and threats of wars, accidents and misery in the newspapers without our writers seeing things frightening in Davy Crockett. Looks to me as though it's trying, pasty-hard to get something to be frightened of. Or maybe everybody just wants to get into the act.

Even Ruth has made herself up a song to show she's just as important as Davy Crockett.

MRS. NORA MAXWELL,

BOMBS AND CHURCHES

Why should any church, especially one governed from foreign soil, have the right to incite the dropping of bombs on the government buildings of any country in order to gain by force the domination of that country?

Is it right that the so-called democracies of the West should stand silently off, and watch the agents of the Roman church attempt to bomb the government of Argentina into submitting to the demands of the Vatican in Rome?

If it is, then I warn you Sir, the day is not far distant when that same church on orders from Rome and Quebec will bomb the Government buildings of British Columbia to enforce its demands for public funds to support its religious schools!

VERITAS.

FLUORIDATION—SELF-ADMINISTERED

I have never before written a letter to a paper but this controversy on the subject of fluoridation has caused such a furore that I cannot refrain from comment.

It amazes me that, as far as I have seen, no one seems to have suggested a very simple solution to the whole question.

Even the proponents of fluoridation admit that only the teeth of children will benefit from drinking water so treated. It has been stated that adults can not possibly benefit, and may incur hardening of the arteries by using fluoridated water.

In view of these assertions, will someone please explain why adults who are definitely opposed to the addition of fluoride in our water should be forced to accept it, when any parent who so desires can purchase fluoride from any drugstore at any time and administer it in the prescribed dosage to his or her child? In case anyone questions that last statement, I have been assured of its truth by a well-known druggist of this city, "provided they sign the usual declaration re purchase of POISONS."

I hope our worthy aldermen and councillors will consider this question well, before forcing us to accept something that some doctors warn us may lead to suffering and possible shortening of our lives.

To Preserve the Peace

BY WALTER LIPPMANN, From Washington

IN a preceding article I spoke of the United Nations as being a universal society to which all governments, with no exception, wish to belong and from which none wishes to resign. There is, of course, another conception of the United Nations, which is to think of them as a league to enforce peace against military aggression. This second conception was invoked in the case of the Korean War. It raises really disturbing questions. In the United States at least they account for much disappointment, and for such popular opposition as there is to the United Nations.

Lippmann

The Korean War, which was fought in the name of the United Nations as a world institution to enforce peace, was an unpopular war in the U.S. For the American people found themselves bearing the brunt of a nasty and bloody war in a distant country.

It was, moreover, in the conventional sense an indecisive war. In so far as the American people had been taught to believe in "collective security," to believe that all the United Nations would rise in their might and their wrath against aggression, they felt they had been let down and were bitter.

RAISE THE ISSUES

It may be said, I know, that on a commemorative occasion it would be more tactful to forget all this and to let bygones be bygones. But, in my view, the future of the United Nations will be brighter and healthier if the issues raised by the Korean experience are discussed and are not left to fester in the dark.

Now the controlling fact, which is often forgotten but which it is necessary to remember, is that the Korean War could never have been fought as a United Nations enterprise but for a mysterious, as yet unexplained, accident.

This was the absence of the Soviet delegate to the Security Council when the North Korean army launched its invasion of South Korea. Had Mr. Malik been present, he could and he would have vetoed the decision of the Security Council to act against the North Korean invasion.

There is no reason to think that the Soviet Union, of any other permanent member of the Security Council, is likely to alter its policy in the future. A decision is being taken. Nor is any government likely to hesitate to use its veto if the Security Council were about to take military action against one of its dependent states. If the great power possessing the veto has not already restrained the dependent state, it has in fact authorized it to commit the aggression. It is bound to prevent the United Nations from crushing its satellite.

The Korean war did demonstrate that the United States and some of its allies would under certain conditions go to war against aggression. If we are frank and objective about it, we shall recognize that the North Korean aggression threatened the vital position of the United States in Japan and that the U.S. had the military forces available to resist it. But the Korean war did not demonstrate that the United Nations will or can be an institution for the collective enforcement of peace against military aggression.

The Charter does not facilitate, in fact it all but prevents, collective enforcement of peace. The system of the veto by the great powers, who are permanent members of the Security Council, was at least as much an American as it was a Soviet condition for adherence to the United Nations.

Now the system of the veto means, and was put into the Charter in order to mean, that military action can never be taken against any of the great powers, nor against any small power which is under the protection of a great power.

The common sense of the veto is that military action by great powers against great powers is nothing less than world war, and it would make no sense to try to establish a universal society which is organized to wage world war.

YIELD TO PRESSURE

What is left of the idea of the collective enforcement of peace is that if and when the great powers are unanimous, small powers are much less likely to wage war. They are much more likely to yield to the pressure and influence calling them to negotiate and to accept mediation.

The idea of an international league to enforce peace became current during the First World War. In the Charter of the United Nations the idea was apparently adopted. But it was in fact rejected.

Thus there are sections of the Charter which authorize collective action against aggression. But they are really fossils left over from that earlier period, now long since past, when the idea had not been put to the test. For these sections cannot be made to operate except when the international conflict is of little importance, and does not involve the serious interests of any of the great powers.

In place of the concept of the collective enforcement of peace, we have developed in these ten years an alternative. It is the traditional way of preserving the peace. We have organized the power to balance the power of the Communist world.

This balance of power, now augmented with nuclear weapons, has made improbable, because the consequences are incalculable and intolerable, wars of aggression and crusades of liberation.

FOLK LORE

Nowadays all our streets and homes are open to the public voices of the twentieth century, to loudspeakers and television screens, to great numbers of advertisements and to the popular press. For all that, I'm always struck by the extent to which the traditional ways of life among working people are still passed on in the old way, that is by word of mouth.

—Richard Hoggart, lecturer in English at Hull University.

DENNIS THE MENACE

From Our Files

June 20, 1895—A company has secured the exclusive fishing rights on the oyster beds recently discovered near Valdez Island, and intends supplying the markets of Victoria and Vancouver. There are two large beds.

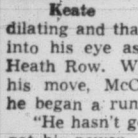

June 20, 1915—The 62nd Battalion is going ahead. About 200 men are being recruited from Prince Rupert and Prince George. An officer also is going to Al-berni.

June 20, 1935—With reminiscences, humorous and serious and with songs, Old Timers' Day was celebrated at the Rotary Club's luncheon today. Frank Higgins, first president spoke of the club's work.

Over to Paris

(This is the seventh in a series of columns on the recent CPA award flight to Amsterdam, with side trips to London and Paris.)

AFTER three days in London, we flew over to Paris in a British European Airways "Elizabethan," a very interesting aircraft. It is sometimes called "Britain's answer to the Concorde," although it is only a two-engine job, it carries 47 passengers and flies at astonishing speeds.

Keate

Just before we took off, CPA president Grant McConachie eased his very considerable frame into the seat beside me. From the moment the door slammed shut, he "flew" the Elizabethan to Paris.

I could see his nostrils dilating and that wild, bushy-pilot's look sneak into his eye as the aircraft warmed up at Heath Row. When the pilot began to make his move, McConachie's legs stiffened and he began a running-fire of commentary:

"He hasn't got his power yet... he hasn't got his power... Not yet... Not yet... Not yet... Now he's getting some... Now it's coming... Pour it on..."

McConachie heaved and tugged (in the back seat of the plane) and we were airborne.

The big fellow grinned. "Thirty-one seconds," he said. "A nice take-off."

The Elizabethan is not a beautiful plane, but extremely practical. Its swollen belly lies close to the tarmac, so that only two small steps are needed to enter.

Its wings are "overhead," and the wheels tuck up into the nacelles, outboard. The result is that the passenger not only gets a better view during the flight, but can enjoy a clear picture of the low-down and watch the impact of the rubber tires as they strike the runway.

"A wonderful plane," McConachie commented. "When you can get $1,000 an hour utilization, brother, you're in business."

It was a bleak, raw crossing and we ran into the only turbulent air of the trip, a few miles past Dieppe. Nevertheless, the efficient British crew managed to feed the entire plane in one hour and—always—the meals were wonderful. On international routes, cigarettes are free of duty in the air and several of the boys took advantage of the opportunity to load up with "555's," realizing that the deadfalls of Paris lay just ahead.

At the Prince of Wales hotel we got our introduction to Parisian prices. Bill Ewing, a personable Honolulu newspaper editor, asked us if we wouldn't join him in the bar for a short smash before leaving for a party at the Canadian Embassy. With us was Eric Halstead, a New Zealand cabinet minister.

When the drinks were served there was the usual fumbling of wallets. But Bill was adamant: "No, no," he insisted. "This was my invitation."

He picked up the check, looked at it, and blinked. It was for 2,875 francs—or roughly $9. Halstead and I guffawed lustily. The French waiters looked at us disapprovingly and muttered: "Les Américains!"

The magnificent Canadian embassy in Paris is presided over by Jean Desy, a cultured French-Canadian with long service in Rio de Janeiro and Rome. M. Desy has filled his embassy with attractive pieces of sculpture and painting, including a number of Canadian originals.

Here we met three old friends: our own Lieutenant-Governor Clarence Wallace who had greeted us at Amsterdam; Bob Smith, an ex-Navy type from Vancouver, who is Canadian trade secretary at Paris and speaking the language like a native; and Roger Lemelin, the noted French-Canadian author, who was abroad to spend some of the frozen francs of his European royalties from "Les Plouffe."

It had been five years and 5,000 miles since I had seen Lemelin, one of my very best friends. Neither knew that the other was in Paris; we found it out, amazingly, when we both happened to glance at a mirrored door dividing two salons. C'est la vie, as we say in Happy Valley.

A WOMAN'S OUTLOOK

The Hands of Humanity

THESE white, wonderful hands with a skin he loves to touch leave me completely cold.

When I think of hands, I think of historic hands, and ordinary hands, and the sort of hands you find all over the world, and all down the centuries.

Among the historic hands, I think of King John's at Runnymede and the signing of the Magna Carta; of hands portraits painted by Holbein, and details of Durer and Da Vinci. And often, with historic hands, I think of glowing velvets and white laces and rings encrusted with wonderful gems. For the historic hands that come to us through famous portrait painters were often the hands of the rich—white aristocratic hands that still gleam, pale and pointed, down the centuries.

Ruth

I think, too, of other famous hands seen in the photographs and pictures of our times. I think of Churchill's podgy and defiant V; of Hitler's silly, hysterical salute; of the Communist fist and the upraised arms in a Fascist mob.

I think of the Queen Mother's hand extended in characteristic and gracious salutation; of the beauty of the almost stylized movements of Queen Elizabeth's hands and arms during the Coronation Ceremony; of the Pope's hand as he blesses the multitude in the close-packed square.

These are famous hands we all know well in a way that would have been impossible a hundred years ago.

But there are other hands as well—the grimy claws of children in the coal mines of the nineteenth century, and the course, revengeful hands that knitted savagely in Paris while the tumblers approached the guillotine, and noble heads fell beneath the flashing, bloodstained blade.

I think of the assassin's hand clutching the revolver that fired the shot that started a war of many nations.

I think of the hands that work for humanity in a thousand different ways; of a doctor's hands, cool and competent as they ease pain or patch up a broken body; of scientists seeking in white laboratories for some "wonder drug" which may lighten the burden of misery for unknown millions.

And, among the non-professional workers for humanity, are those neighborly, Good Samaritan hands outstretched to give and help when someone falls by the wayside in sickness, pain or grief. As a rule, they are unsung, anonymous hands, quietly busy with the little unremembered acts of kindness and of love that form the best portion of a good man's life.

The hands I like are those motivated by a mind which was taught in youth that the true ends of knowledge are for the benefit and use of life.

I admire the hands that fight with typewriter or pen for truth and justice and freedom.

I admire the hands that work faithfully at a job, and, no matter how humble the task may be, are never satisfied with less than perfection.

I admire the hands that work on the land, producing food for the mouths and bellies of men.

I hate selfish, useless hands, and greedy paws that grab up every nickel.

I pity the true alcoholic's hand, reaching in shaky panic for the drink that will, for a moment, make life bearable again.

I HATE the drunken, fumbling hand doing disgusting or brutal things from which the mind reels in horror.

The hands of humanity in all their many millions. If one troubles to think about them, they seem to form a chain that stretches back, wavering but unbroken, into the mists of time.

COURT SEIZES BABY IN TRY TO SAVE LIFE

ENGLEWOOD, N.J. (UP)—Doctors gave around-the-clock blood transfusions today to a week-old girl who was taken from her parents by court order when they objected to the transfusions on religious grounds.

The girl's Gail Bertinato was in critical condition from effects of an RH factor in her blood. Doctors at Englewood Hospital held hopes that they could save the infant's life by replacing her blood with the transfusions.

The child's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bertinato, both about 25, are members of the Jehovah's Witness sect.

Freed U.S. Jet Ace 'Confessed' for Reds

WASHINGTON (AP)—An air force spokesman said Sunday night Capt. Harold Fischer, Jr., Korean jet ace from Iowa who was a prisoner of the Chinese Reds, "confessed" to taking part in germ warfare against them.

Fischer and three other American fliers were released by the Chinese Communists three weeks ago. They now are back in the United States.

The air force official said the other three fliers also had "confessed" to crossing Yalu river sanctuary during the Korean war while under air force orders. He said there had been no such orders.

The three others are Lt. Col. Edwin Heller of Wynnewood, Pa., Lieut. Lyle Cameron, Lincoln, Neb., and Lieut. Roland Par's, Omaha, Neb.

He indicated the four are not likely to face disciplinary action. Cameron denied Sunday he had made "any confession about anything" to his Red Chinese captors. "And I don't know about any confession anybody else made."

Heller, reached at his home said:

B.C. Baptists Demand Sex, Crime Comic Ban

Ban on import of so-called sex or crime comics was demanded by B.C. Baptists at their convention just ended here. establish a treatment centre for drug addicts; mental hygiene teaching in church and Sunday schools to prevent juvenile delinquency.

They urged that "the federal government apply the powers it now possesses under regulations of the customs department to forbid entry into Canada of all sex and crime 'comics' which emphasize and glamorize vulgar or anti-social behavior."

They asked that names of the panel of censors and publications involved be made known.

A budget of $49,885 was approved for aid to mission churches, summer camps, Christian education, social service, alcoholic research and support of Vancouver council of churches.

'58 Supported By McKelvie For Birthday
'66 'Sad Year' Says Historian

B.C. historians today split down the centre on the date the province's 100th birthday should be celebrated. B. A. McKelvie, of Cobble Hill, a well-known writer and historian, joined the supporters of Nov. 19, 1958—the date given official sanction by Premier W. A. C. Bennett. In supporting 1958, Mr. McKelvie disagreed with such authorities as Willard Ireland, provincial archivist and librarian, and Mrs. Douglas Turnbull, president of the B.C. Historical Society. Mr. Ireland and Mrs. Turnbull say B.C.'s centennial should be marked in 1966, 100 years from the date the two colonies of Vancouver Island and British Columbia (the mainland) were joined. However, both feel 1958 should be marked as 100 years from the Cariboo gold rush. UNFORTUNATE Mr. McKelvie said the controversy is "most unfortunate."

THEATRE'S NEW MASSEY UNCLE VINCENT'S PRIDE

LONDON (CP)—Governor-General Vincent Massey visited the theatre Saturday night and went backstage afterwards to talk with the show's pretty 17-year-old star. She is Anna Massey, his niece. "I'm very proud of you," the governor-general told her. Anna plays the title role in "The Reluctant Debutante," a comedy hit, at the Cambridge Theatre. Daughter of Raymond Massey and Adrienne Allen, both in the theatre, she took over the part without having been in a play before. Massey said it was the first time he has seen his niece since she was 10. He is in Britain on a six-week visit.

England gave us a secret
Some 100 years ago the bartender of Pimm's Restaurant of London invented a tall drink which he called Pimm's Cup. To this day, the formula for this delectable gin drink is still a secret. Try it — it's the coolest, most refreshing long-iced gin drink you ever tasted.
Here's a simple way to enjoy Pimm's No. 1 Cup: Take 2 ozs. of Pimm's No. 1 Cup; charge with lemon soda or gingerale; add a slice of lemon, a thin slice of cucumber rind (if available) and serve well iced.
Send for free 34-page recipe booklet to P.O. Box 308, Station B, Montreal.

The New York Yankees perched atop the American League again today in the see-saw battle for first place—and they were there because they whipped their No. 1 rivals, White Sox.

But, shucks, Yankees always could fight the pretenders to their throne on at least even terms.

Yanks were knocked out of first place Saturday for the first time in a month as Chicago won 6-3 but the New Yorkers moved up again Sunday with a pair of 7-1 and 5-0 wins.

When Yanks were dropped by Cleveland last year, manager Casey Stengel bemoaned the fact that the league have-nots didn't help. He complained that Indians fattened themselves on the second division.

All of which was true, the statistics show. It also makes Boston's 11-7 triumph over Cleveland Sunday significant. Red Sox couldn't lick Indians in Boston at all in 1954 and, in fact, won only two of 22 decisions with them all year.

Their victory over the tribe was their seventh in 12 games this year and third in the four-game set. It also was Sox 11th triumph in their last 13 games, but they are still fifth, 10 games off the pace.

Ted Williams blasted a pair of home runs in the slugfest and to add insult to injury, Sox teed off on Indian rookie ace Herb Score for eight hits.

Yanks used their favorite weapon, the home run, to good advantage in their triumph over White Sox. Elston Howard and Bill Skowron hit for the circuit in the opener and Gil McDougald and Mickey Mantle connected in the second game.

In the National League, Brooklyn Dodgers fattened their lead to 11 games by beating St. Louis Cardinals 7-4 while the second-place Chicago Cubs were splitting a doubleheader with Philadelphia Phillies. The Quaker city outfit won the first 1-0 behind Ron Nease and Jack Meyer and the Cubs took the nightcap 8-7, a curtailed 6½-inning affair because of darkness.

Milwaukee whipped New York 8-7 and Pittsburgh and Cincinnati split a pair. Pirates taking the first 5-2 and Redlegs the second 4-0 as Joe Nuxhall wielded the whitewash brush.

For the remaining four, the announcement said.

G. O. Allen, chairman, said Hutton has been invited to serve on the committee for the rest of the series.

Allen said Colin Cowdrey, a star batsman recently discharged from the RAF on medical grounds, has not played enough cricket this season to be considered for the second test.

Bob Appleyard, spin bowler, is not considered fit enough for a five-day test after injuring his leg Saturday; it also was announced.

Hutton Withdrawn From Test Series

LONDON (Reuters)—Captain Len Hutton will not play for England in any of the four remaining tests against the touring South Africans this season, it was announced Sunday by the selection committee.

Hutton missed the first test because of a recurrence of lumbago and now has informed the committee that for health reasons he does not wish to take part in test cricket again this season.

Pete May, captain in the first test, has accepted the captaincy

Sparks' Side Captures Test Match

Jack Sparks paced his side to victory in Saturday's test cricket match at Beacon Hill Park, hitting up 60 runs. Sparks' side defeated one captained by Dennis Hendra, 145-136.

The match was played to enable the selection committee to pick a team for the inter-city match against Vancouver July 1.

Bob Simpson Captures Main Event

Bob Simpson withstood a late challenge by favorite Del Panning to win the main event at the big car racing meet Saturday night at Western Speedway.

Trophy dash winner was Cliff Spalding, who was just 5-100ths of a second off the track record in the time trials. Spalding was forced out of the first heat with a broken axle after he collided with Fanning's car.

Trophy dash—1. Cliff Spalding; 2. Del Panning; 3. Al Coutts; 4. Bob Simpson; 5. Jack Spaulding; 6. Gene Wolff; 7. Gene Wolff; 8. Gene Wolff; 9. Gene Wolff; 10. Gene Wolff.

Main event—1. Bob Simpson; 2. Del Panning; 3. Gene Wolff.

Did Archie Moore Pull Fast One?

NEW YORK (AP)—The most intriguing aspect of Wednesday night's title fight is the possibility, seemingly not too remote, that Archie Moore has put over a fast one on Bobo Olson and his advisors, having to do with the amount of weight Archie has had to shuck off to come in at the 175-pound limit.

For the last week a whisper has been rustling through local fight circles that Moore, who is known to be a slick one, didn't actually scale a bulbous 196½ pounds for his twilight victory over Nino Valdes last May 2 in Las Vegas. All Archie actually weighed, the rumor goes, was 186½.

The promoter of the Las Vegas venture just happened to have been one Jack (Doc) Kearns, who as Jack Dempsey's manager once pillaged the little city of Shelby, Mont., and who has been trying to improve upon that performance ever since. And one of those who has been most active in spreading the tale of Moore's weight duplicity just happens to be close to Kearns: For that reason the fight crowd is more than a little inclined to credit the yarn.

TOO WEAK TO SWING CAT

The angle is, natch, that Olson, who still is only a heavy middleweight, was suckered into the match in the belief that he would be fighting a veteran who had been forced to punish himself cruelly in melting off close to 25 pounds in a month's training. In other words, if you believe the whispers, Bobo was lured into thinking Archie would come in too weak to swing a cat with any authority.

The new version, if true, alters the picture radically, and it probably is significant that the odds against Olson lengthened immediately after the story got around that Kearns had his foot on the scales. If Archie really pulled only 186½ for Valdes, all the recent literature about his horrible sweating-off ordeal over at Summit, N.J., has been so much hassenpfeffer. The wise money knows that Archie can shed 11½ pounds without taxing himself.

So the prospect is that Olson, at 171 pounds or thereabouts, will find himself stacked against some 180 pounds of fighting man whose achievements speak volubly for themselves. It might become one-sided.

Chisholm Advocates 'Freedom To Think'

Men Must Be Untrammelled by Fixed Faiths If They're to Find Solution in A-Age

NEW YORK (CP).—Clear thinking is the only hope for "survival for the human race," Dr. Brock Chisholm of Victoria told an atoms-for-peace forum at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel here Sunday night.

"A lot of people are going to have to do a lot of clear and original thinking during the next few years if there is to be a reasonable hope for survival of the human race," the former secretary-general of the World Health Organization told a distinguished group of atomic, political and social scientists.

"If that thinking is going to be done it will have to be undertaken by people relatively free of certainties found in loyalties to past and present patterns."

Chisholm said many new realities must be faced.

All the implications of H-bombs, biological warfare, atomic energy, inadequacy and obsolescence of many, perhaps of most political, administrative, legislative, financial and business institutions and methods will have to be thought through if the world would avoid chaos and even racial suicide, he said.

NAME-CALLING INEVITABLE

"To say that rethinking toward new attitudes appropriate for such a greatly-changed world will have to be done by people relatively mean that rebels, as such, are needed although some martyrdom may well be inevitable."

"Whoever will suggest the kinds of drastic changes that will be needed will be condemned by those of fixed faiths as iconoclast, heretic, or whatever—terms of childish name-calling may happen to be popular locally. Communist and subversive labels will undoubtedly be used."

In recent years many experts in technical fields have broken away from orthodoxies in attempts to adjust to changed pressures and requirements. But the politicians were far behind. They would change only when—and to the degree—they are pushed by popular opinion.

"A major responsibility of this generation is to make it possible for free-thinking people who are well informed on a world basis to make the results of their thinking available to people generally and to gain a hearing. Those are the only people who can be expected to contribute usefully toward solutions which will answer the world's needs."

City Handicapped Laying Plans For Own Industry

Plans to set up an industry in Victoria to provide full-time employment for handicapped individuals were laid at a meeting of Victoria League of the Handicapped Friday after members heard a report on a similar operation in Seattle.

Primary purpose of the plant, which would manufacture articles designed for quick turnover, would be to keep the handicapped employed. Making a profit would be of secondary importance, building co-ordinator Fred Blakeney said.

Tentative plans are to obtain a building suitable for the purpose and begin operations with a staff of about 25-30 people, increasing personnel and operations with time.

Goodwill Industries, Seattle, is on a production basis and employs several hundred handicapped.

False Teeth Need A Special Cleanser

Don't Brush Your Plates! Soak Them in Polident As Dentists Suggest

Polident is the recommended way to clean dentures, banish Denture Breath. Just follow these easy rules.

1. Never use a brush on them! Your dental plates are much softer than natural teeth. Brushing wears down fitting ridges so they get loose.

2. Never use soap or toothpaste! They can leave film which collects bacteria and food particles, a major cause of offensive "Denture Breath".

3. Use a soaking-type cleanser made for false teeth only... Polident! Polident cleanser is recommended by more dentists than any other. No brushing, no handling of soapy plates. Polident gets where a brush can't reach.

Best of all, Polident always leaves false teeth odor free. Get the world's largest selling denture cleanser, Polident, at your drug counter. D-123

A-Bomb Dust Considered War Weapon

CD Chief Speaks To Sooke Group
By DOUG FORRESTER
Times Sooke Correspondent

SOOKE — Speaking here to a joint meeting of the home nursing and first aid groups, P. W. deP. Taylor, civil defence officer, compared the "fall-out" effects of A-bombs as compared to H-bombs and stated that the "fall-out" itself is now regarded as a "conventional weapon."

Agreeing with recent statements made by Greater Victoria civil defence co-ordinator Roger Peachey and Reeve E. C. Wurtele of Esquimalt, Mr. Taylor emphasized the need for civilian populations to take cover in the event of nuclear explosions.

"Total evacuation is unrealistic because those on the road would be uncontrollable and exposed to highly dangerous radioactive dust," he said. He suggested that mothers and children and the aged should be pre-evacuated to fully equipped camps at least 50 miles from target areas and only those essential to the country's economy be allowed to stay near target areas.

"If I lived in a target area I would put my faith in a garden dug-out shelter. Basement shelters are suitable only if there is an easy means of exit in case of fire. However, residents of the Sooke area should be safe as building destruction by blast and heat flash is less likely," said Mr. Taylor.

Speaking to the home nursing class, Mr. Taylor congratulated the members on the high standard of efficiency attained and thanked Mrs. R. Hesselton for her good work as instructor. Frank Gray, recently returned from a civil defence course at Arnprior, Ont., gave a brief report on his work there and stated that B.C. is leading Canada in civil defence preparedness.

ON FIVE-YEAR CIRCUIT

Legion Officers Present Gavel to Qualicum Branch

QUALICUM BEACH — The travelling gavel of Nanaimo and North Vancouver Island Zone, Canadian Legion, was presented to Qualicum Beach Branch No. 76 at a colorful ceremony in the community hall here attended by delegates of many up-island branches.

Presentation was made by the new zone commander, Owen Taylor, Comox, to Leslie Hobbs, local branch president.

The gavel, made from wood of the historic Ss. Beaver, was presented some years ago by a Nanaimo member to be a symbol of amity between zone branches. It is held for four months by each branch in turn. With 19 branches in the zone, it takes just five years to make the circuit.

New zone officers, zone commander Taylor and his deputy, W. Clarke, were installed in office by Ernie Hoff, Nanaimo, who is now vice-president of provincial command, and who formerly headed the zone for nine years.

"There are 165,000 veterans in British Columbia," declared Mr. Taylor, "of whom 35,000 are Legion members, leaving 130,000 outside the Legion fold." He urged all members to bring in one more member apiece.

Board Refuses Dairy Licence

DUNCAN — An application by George Kocurek, local dairyman, for a producer-distributor licence, was turned down by the British Columbia Milk Board on the grounds that he did not prove "public necessity and convenience at the present time."

KINSMEN PARK OPENING SET FOR JULY 23

CHEMAINUS — Official opening of the Kinsmen park and playground will be held July 23, club president Dave Murray has announced. The official opening will draw to a close a project that was started four years ago, and upon which Kinsmen have expended considerable expense and effort. A number of leading municipal and business officials will be invited to take part in the special opening ceremonies.

Firefighters Oppose Union With Police

NANAIMO — Vancouver Island Firefighters' Association at its convention here Saturday and Sunday took steps to block any proposed combination of police and fire services in their areas.

In a resolution to the Union of B.C. Municipalities the association went on record as opposing any such amalgamation. The association also will query the Workmen's Compensation Board regarding benefits for volunteer firemen.

New president of the association is William Goode, Youbou, and his vice-president is Charles Wilson, Nanaimo. William Grouhel, Ladysmith, is secretary.

More than 200 firemen from Vancouver Island volunteer and professional departments attended the convention.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL BONNER

A-G Reviews 100 Years of B.C. Growth

QUALICUM BEACH — British Columbia will reach a population balance with the rest of North America in from 20 to 50 years, Attorney-General Robert Bonner told the Chamber of Commerce here.

"In just over a century the province has grown from the early pioneer stages, and seems to be tracing the path of California's great expansion after the First World War," he said.

The population of the province has increased 55 per cent since 1945, he said, compared to 28 per cent for the rest of the nation.

Duncan Turner reviewed the work of the chamber for the past year for the benefit of the 110 members and guests present at the meeting. Highlights, he said, were the issuing of a publicity folder, successful effort to establish a two-mile limit for herring seiners, sand conservation on the beach, and surfacing of roads.

GUILTY OF INTOXICATION

SOOKE — E. Charters, appearing before Magistrate F. Thornber in police court here, pleaded guilty to a charge of being intoxicated in a public place and was fined $25 and costs.

New Nanaimo Wharf Tested By Princess of Vancouver

NANAIMO — Hundreds of residents turned out Saturday to watch the new combined car, truck, train and passenger ferry Princess of Vancouver make a trial landing here to test new berthing facilities.

A new dock and slip were built here especially to accommodate the new vessel, which will make its first departure from here Tuesday at 8 a.m.

For the last few days it has been in Vancouver where features to serve stern loading of the vessel have been added.

Local businessmen and civic officials will be guests at a reception tonight when they will be able to inspect the new ship built by Alexander Stephen & Sons of Glasgow.

It will carry up to 28 railway cars or a combination of cars and trucks, and has lounges and public rooms for 800 passengers. The ship will make three round trips daily.

Crippled Kids Living in Hope for New Solarium

It's young fellows like Pat who get the credit for the fact that more than 1,200 citizens have volunteered to canvass Greater Victoria in a one-hour "crusade" June 28 for funds to help build a new Solarium for crippled children at Gordon Head. The wistful three-year-old is one of hundreds of tots who will benefit each year through treatment at new hospital, plans of which Pat has been studying. Twin objectives of sponsors are 800 additional canvassers, and $67,000 in actual drive. Actual cost of new building to replace Mill Bay structure will be $929,000. (Halkett photo.)

'AFRAID OF A WOMAN?'

New Challenge Issued By MLA on Fluorides

City MLA Mrs. Lydia Arsens publicly debate the fluoridation today issued a second challenge. "Is he afraid of a woman?" she asked Mrs. Arsens in a letter "come out in the open" and to this paper. "Where is his sense of honor? While he refuses to meet me in clean, open debate, he continues to smear campaign and snipe at me from behind the skirts of the press, where space and rebuttal are limited."

Dr. McNeeley said earlier no purpose could be served by a public debate on the subject, and had ignored a challenge to debate the issue.

Dr. McNeeley is pro-fluoridation; Mrs. Arsens is an opponent.

DISPUTED CLAIMS

A few days ago the doctor disputed claims Mrs. Arsens made in a pamphlet written by her. Today she said if the universities which Dr. McNeeley had written, which said they had no opposition to fluoridation, were correct "their integrity and intent of purpose should certainly be immediately investigated."

Authorities quoted by Dr. McNeeley, she said, had not expressed outright approval of fluoridation, but had been non-committal.

"Generalized weak statements" was how she termed them.

"Dr. McNeeley and I hold very responsible positions; our duties are grave and our issue is grave. Let us settle this honorably, intelligently and openly, in the largest arena available... for the sake of the little children."

Fluoridation of public water supplies, according to dental leaders and medical men, is said to help prevent tooth decay among children.

The question of introducing fluorides to the domestic water supply now is before the city and municipal councils of Greater Victoria.

Businessmen From Hawaii Coming Here

About 45 members of the Hawaii Chinese Chamber of Commerce will visit Victoria Thursday on the first leg of a goodwill tour which will take them through the Western United States and Mexico. They will be here two days, accompanied by their Narcissus Queen, Carolyn Tong. Tour leader is Given Tang and president of the group is Lin-San Lai.

Here they will be feted by the local Chinese Chamber of Commerce. Official welcome will be made by chairman of Commerce, George Jos and on the welcoming committee will be Wai Qoon, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tang, Lee Gun, Dick Cheu and Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Yee.

A banquet for the visiting chamber will be held at 6 p.m. Thursday, while festivities in their honor will take place at 8 p.m. outside the Chamber of Commerce office, Fisgard Street.

The Chinese Girls' Drill Team will participate in the tour. Following their visit here, the Hawaii businessmen will leave for Seattle; San Francisco, Los Angeles and Mexico.

Unpreparedness Brings $35 Fine

Failing to maintain adequate fire-fighting equipment brought a fine of $35 for jamming operator Robert A. Simpson, 341 Niagara, when he appeared in Colwood RCMP court Saturday. RCMP said the charge was laid by the forestry department.

Egg Prices Up

Egg prices in Victoria advanced four cents a dozen today to "A" large and medium grades. The increase was attributed to "a seasonal drop in production." Today's hike was the second increase in the last week. The change puts the producer price at 49 cents a dozen for Grade "A" large and 46 cents a dozen for Grade "A" medium.

'SOAPIES' GETTING SET FOR DERBY

Applications for the Port Alberni soap box derby, July 1, now are available at Wilson Motors Ltd.

The meet is open to all soap box racers on Vancouver Island. The winner will be sent to the B.C. championship at Mission City, and the top driver there may compete for the world's championship at Akron, O.

Racing will be down the speedy Fourth Avenue course, where Victoria entries in the past have been clocked at speeds up to 44 miles per hour. Sponsors of the meet is the Port Alberni Gyro Club.

'Fill Kalakala' Campaign Gets Good Response

Sale of tickets for the inaugural trip of the Mv. Kalakala between Victoria and Port Angeles is going well, a Chamber of Commerce spokesman said today.

The chamber has printed 1,500 excursion tickets for the Friday afternoon there-and-back cruise to mark entry of the Washington State Ferries' vessel on the important tourist run. The tickets are being sold in 15 downtown locations for $2.40 each.

All department stores are handling the tickets, as well as the Chamber of Commerce office and Publicity Bureau.

The trip will leave Victoria at 12:30 and return at 4:30. Entertainment aboard the ship will be provided by Geisha girls from Japan, the Hometowners' Orchestra. Eighteen-year-old Doreea Wells, who is "Miss Victoria for 1955," also will be aboard.

"WEEK OF THE YEAR" started today for Greater Victoria school children, and there wasn't a happier "lad" than North Ward first-grader Eddie Ho. In addition to it being the last week before school closing for summer vacation, Eddie was jumping with joy over his new Davy Crockett get-up. A real "Davy" from head to toe, Eddie's frontier frolicking started because he had a seventh birthday Sunday. "Thought I was only goin' to get the hat," he confided. (Times photo.)

Park Flooding Approved By Government

Alcan Takes Million Acres

Tweedsmuir Park in north-central B.C. has been reduced in size about one-third by flooding resulting from Alcan's Kitimat-Kemano project.

An order-in-council approved by the cabinet today cut the park from 3,456,000 acres to 2,299,500 acres, with the new park area including some tracts of Crown land.

The flooding, according to government officials, resulted from the Kenny Dam, cornerstone of the Kemano aluminum industry, which backed up waters of the Eutsuk and Tahtsa Lakes.

The order-in-council said the land was no longer "suitable for park purposes."

Tweedsmuir park was formed on May 21, 1938.

Flooding of the land aroused a storm of controversy in B.C. during the initial stages of the Alcan project. Under the company's agreement with the province, the timber to be flooded was not required to be cleared.

Thousands of acres of timber were inundated. Alcan pays 10 cents a year per acre for the land covered.

A government official said today more than 1,000,000 acres of parkland was ruined by the flooding. This includes forestland made unsightly by the rotting stumps of flooded timber.

Four Injured In Crashes On Week-End

Two children were among four persons injured in week-end traffic accidents.

A city man, Ralph Alexander Brown, 420 Hillside, received a broken collarbone when pinned under his jeep Saturday at about 2:40 p.m. on Six Mile Hill.

He was reported in "good" condition today at St. Joseph's Hospital.

BUS INVOLVED

The two children, Johanna and Phillip Holloway, aged four and seven, of Central Saanich, suffered minor injuries in a three-car and bus crash at Douglas and Topaz Saturday at about 1:45 p.m.

R. D. M. Brown, Brentwood, also received minor injuries in the crash.

Police said an auto driven south on Douglas, and stopped to turn east on Topaz by Thelma R. Aronson, 1315 Ray, was struck in the rear by a vehicle driven by Mr. Brown.

Mr. Brown's car was then struck by one driven by Joseph Walcher, Saanichton, which, in turn, was hit by a navy bus driven by William Lougheed, 3155 Uplands.

Children were passengers in the Walcher car.

LOAD SLID Colwood RCMP said Ralph A. Brown was driving down Six Mile hill toward town when a small load of lumber on a trailer began to slide.

The trailer jackknifed and Brown lost control of the jeep. A passenger in the jeep, Jimmy Carvath, also of 420 Hillside, escaped injury. He was thrown clear when the vehicle crashed.

Keen Interest in Election Of Nine Chamber Directors

Greater interest than ever before has been shown by members of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce in their annual election of directors.

Hector Crombie, secretary-manager, said today the number of ballots already in the hands of the election committee had reached 360—a record response. Chamber members who have not yet voted have until 5 p.m. Tuesday to submit their ballots.

A total of 670 ballots was mailed to chamber members. Nine persons are to be elected to fill nine vacancies on the board of directors. Eight of these will serve for two years and one for one year.

Those in the running are: Herbert Barnes, Patrick Birley, C. E. Blaney, F. N. Cabellou, Wallace Courtney, J. A. Bourcier, Arthur Dowell, Geoffrey St. Edwards, Harold E. Edwards, J. R. Genge, William Gilmour, J. C. Haddock, J. V. Harbord, J. House, J. R. Kingham, Alan Leith, W. A. Pendray and Max Zabel.

Result of the balloting will be announced by the committee Tuesday night.

Tenders To Be Called On Esquimalt Hall

Tenders for renovation and addition to Esquimalt Municipal Hall will be called July 4 and close July 18, architects Clack and Clayton said today.

Home Explosion From 'Toy' Bomb Brings Warning

City police warned youngsters today to be careful they are buying the right item when purchasing toy jet propulsion units which are sold locally.

A Saanich youth bought an airgun compressed gas cylinder by mistake last week, blew a hole in his kitchen wall and narrowly escaped serious injury.

Police said that James Armstrong, 16, 511 McKenzie, bought a compressed gas cylinder, used in an air gun, it provides the power to shoot 50 to 60 rounds. The boy thought he was buying a toy jet power bomb for driving model machines. He hooked it up to his meccano and couldn't make it work.

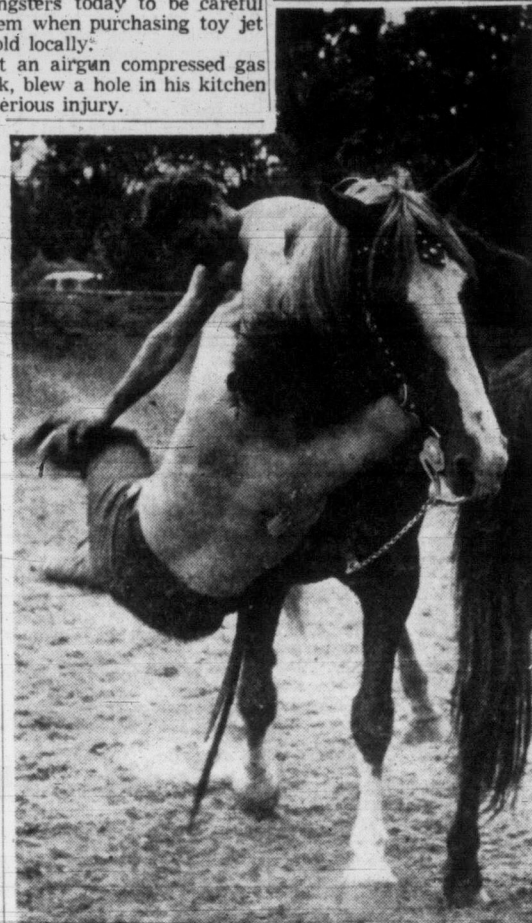

His mother said he phoned the store and asked how to ignite a Jet-X, as the toy propulsion unit is called. He was told to light a match to it.

When he lit four matches to the air gun cylinder, still thinking it was a Jet-X, it exploded. The shattered bomb buried itself in the plaster wall. Mrs. Edward Armstrong, her brother and two younger children were in the room with the boy when the explosion happened.

The blast startled neighbors and brought Saanich police. James was bruised and shocked but otherwise unhurt. "But he could have had it in the eye," said Mrs. Armstrong.

Saanich police turned the case over to city police to investigate. Police said the sale of both items is legal but care must be used in selecting the proper item.

"I'm interested in stopping the sale of these things; lots of other youngsters are getting the same thing," stated Mrs. Armstrong.

Horsemen Preview July 1 Sidney Show

A preview of the show they will give at Dominion Day celebrations at Sidney on July 1 was staged by Colwood Trail Riders for a large crowd Sunday at the Burnside Road property of Jack Henson Jr.

A feature of the gymkhana was a performance by the 24-member mounted drill team of the riders' club under direction of drill-master Archie Steele. Sr. Hours of practice were apparent in the precision show.

Ten events were run off during the afternoon by the western-style riders, and aggregate winner was the "big boy" of the Trail Riders, six-foot six-inch Gordie Huston, on his well-trained Trudy.

WRESTLING Included in the contests were bare-back wrestling, saddling and barrel racing, balloon busting and pole bending. Similar events will be staged at the Sidney show, between 2 and 4 p.m. at Memorial Park, with the addition of a colorful cowskin race, new to Vancouver Island horse shows.

Sunday results follow, names of horses in brackets: Musical Chairs: First, Paddy Ball (Bimbo); second, Tony Wrapp (Sheba); third, Bobby Henson (Beauty).

Bareback Wrestling: Floyd Adams (Dick); Gordie Huston (Trudy); Brian Wilson (Teo).

BOBBY WINS Saddling race: (teams of three) first, Bobby Henson, Paddy Ball and Gordie Huston (Beauty, Bimbo and Trudy); second, Darrell Walker, Billy Henson and Joe Smith (Canyon, Dick and Teddy); third, Dick Clapham, Clint Wilson and Gordie Steel (Toito, Cindy and Teddy).

Barrel race: Stephanie Quinton (Joan); Russ Hurst (Silver); Darrell Walker (Canyon). Wranglers' race: Dick Clapham (Toito); Johnny Henson (Beauty).

Sports Car Meet Winner of the Victoria Motor Sports Club rally Sunday, in which 12 sports cars competed over 147 miles of highway on the lower Island, was Howard Phillips.

He topped other competitors by driving closest to the pre-gauged average speed for the distance involved. Second place went to Don Smith and third to Ted Wood.

SHOPPING GUIDE

New Illustrated Cook Book Especially for Small Fry

By PENNY SAVER

There are so many child-size cooking sets and complete sets of dishes being sold in town that I can bet that there are dozens of mothers who are being besieged with "Mommy, may I cook something?" Today I received a wonderful little cook book in the mail and I'll tell you about it. It's a cook book especially for the children, grade school age. It's the first of its kind to be illustrated with step-by-step picture recipes in full color. The names of the recipes are appealing for the children, just as the pictures are. They may follow the pictures from the start of their cooking spree right through to the serving. They'll love it.

Included, besides the raft of recipes, are other handy things for the youngsters to know. Such as, "Eight Steps to the Clean Kitchen," a wonderful thing to teach a child, and "Kitchen Safety Rules."

At the back of the book is an illustrated table, showing how to set it properly. Also included is the Clean Kitchen diploma. The official signature at the bottom will belong to Mommy, who will sign it only when the child has gone through the book, and can cook a whole supper, and leave a clean kitchen. A wonderful goal for the little girl in the house. These super books will be on sale in the local markets and newsstands the first of July, for just 25 cents.

For anyone who needs protective gloves for their type of work or hobby, I've found an all-purpose glove that will suit the needs. They're called "glovettes," and are guaranteed to outlast five to ten pairs of ordinary gloves. These gloves are made of Poly-Vinyl Chloride, a material which will not be affected by detergents, grease, oils, paints, metal, wax polish, sea water or sunlight. "Glovettes" are dipped, not moulded, therefore the seamless structure will stand up to hard use, and long fingernails will not cut their way through, because there is an extra thickness at the tips of the fingers. They pull on so easily, too, 'cause they're lined with a smooth jersey material.

These gloves are strongly resistant to the penetration of thorns, so rose fanciers will be wise to invest in a pair. You may buy them here in town now, and they cost $1.79 a pair. Just call me at 2-3131, and I'll tell you where to buy any article mentioned in the column.

Waverley Matcham Wed In Ceremony at Halifax

A wedding of interest to Victorians took place Saturday evening in Oxford Street United Church, Halifax, when Miss Margaret Waverley Matcham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Matcham, 1035 Bank Street, became the bride of Rev. Elton Clark Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Smith, Nappan, N.S.

Rev. E. D. Murray officiated and Miss Joan Phinney sang "The Wedding Prayer," and "The Lord's Prayer." White chrysanthemums were placed in the church.

Given in marriage by George Bradley, the bride chose a gown of lace and nylon tulle over satin. A lace bodice topped the satin skirt which was covered with nylon tulle and appliqued with lace flowers. She wore a pearl necklace and carried a bouquet of red roses.

Miss Marion Matcham, Victoria, was maid of honor, in an aqua colored nylon dress fashioned with white velvety flocking. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses and sweet peas, and wore a headband of matching flowers. Best man was Rev. Fred McKinnon, and ushers, Rev. Lloyd Salsman and Rev. Robert MacKay.

A reception followed in the YWCA, where a three-tier cake with flowers on the top tier centred the bride's table. A bouquet of sweet peas was on

Vancouver Christening

Miss Diana Cox travelled to Vancouver this week to act as godmother for little six-month-old Elizabeth Jean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McLoughlin, Vancouver. The ceremony took place in St. John's Shagnessy Church, with Dr. A. M. Trendell officiating. Other godparents are Mr. Peter Whalley and Mrs. Neil Stewart. Following the ceremony, a family tea took place.

Here From Toronto

Mrs. A. Whillans has come from Toronto, Ont., to visit her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Jones, and her two granddaughters, Linda, and baby Patricia, at their Cross Street Home. Mrs. Whillans plans to be in the city until the beginning of July.

Sooke Christening

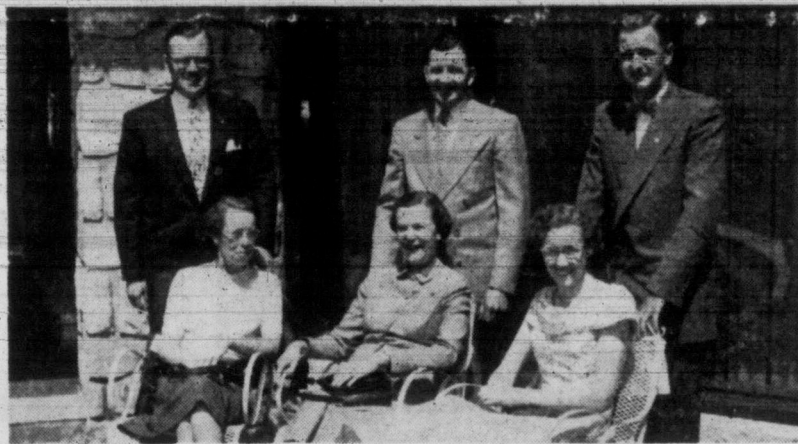

St. Rose of Lima Church, Sooke, was the scene of a baptism recently when the baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Blouin of Sooke received the names Marie Suzanne. Father W. J. O'Brien officiated. The godparents are Mr. and Mrs. John Vincent of Alberta. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lavertue stood proxy.

Traditional 'Something Old' Carried by Saturday Bride

An heirloom handkerchief which was carried by her grandmother on her wedding day, was carried by bride, Miss Janet Pauline Avender, at her wedding, Saturday evening, in United Church, when she exchanged vows with Reginald Keith Hooper. Rev. Moir A. J. Waters officiated at the ceremony for the daughter of F. Avender, 4937 West Saanich Road, and Mrs. B. Avender, 2533 Cook Street, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Hooper, 1867 Neil Street.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a white gown of Chantilly lace over satin, fashioned with a lace bolero with Peter Pan collar and long lily-point sleeves. Her full net skirt was appliqued with lace, the pattern of which was repeated on her fingertip veil held by a coronet of mother of pearl. Red roses and lily of the valley were in her cascade bridal bouquet. She wore the groom's gift, a single strand of pearls.

Maid of honor, Miss Pamela Turner, Duncan, wore a mauve polka dot net over taffeta gown with a wreath of yellow roses

Honor Club Members at Jasper

pany's Victoria office; Mrs. Davidson; Mr. G. A. Forrest, Metropolitan agent at Victoria; Mrs. Forrest; Mr. G. W. Sinden, agent at Duncan, V.I., and Mrs. Sinden. The Davidsons and the Forrests returned to the city Sunday. (Canadian National Railways photo.)

An Exclusively Designed Gown Worn by Miss Carmen Bertram

Miss Carmen-Frances Bertram wore a gown designed exclusively for her, at her wedding to Daniel Frederick Coburn, in a ceremony in Sacred Heart Church, Saturday evening.

The dark-haired bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bertram, 1177 Cloverly Terrace, and her groom, the son of Mrs. A. Coburn, Victoria, and the late W. Coburn. White lilac and white carnations banked the altar, and Miss Theodora Gubbers played traditional organ music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was charming in her white Chantilly lace gown, lined with white corded taffeta. The decolletage and bracelet-length dolman sleeves featured an appliqued embroidery of hand-cut lace flowers and leaves. The bodice was closely fitted, and a self belt accented the fanning darts which shaped the skirt, extending into waltz length. She carried a white prayer book, topped with a mauve orchid with lily of the valley.

Matron of honor was Mrs. L. Wilson, who chose a pale green gown of shot taffeta. She carried a colonial bouquet and wore matching flowers in her hair. Little Joan Cavell was flower girl, in a pale yellow tulle frock with matching headpiece. She carried a colonial bouquet. Best man was Andre DeGiramo and usher was L. Cavell.

A reception was held after the ceremony, in the Duke of Kent Room at the Empress Hotel, where Cecil Lewis proposed the traditional toast to the bride. A three-tier cake flanked by carnations, iris and lilac centred the bride's table.

For a honeymoon trip, the bride donned a rose suit with a small pink flowered hat, with accessories of shoes and purse of bronze kid. She topped her outfit with a Russian squirrel stole.

Mr. and Mrs. Coburn will make their home in Victoria.

Bourgeois-Potter Vows Said In St. Andrew's Cathedral

Miss Shirley Ann Potter became the bride of Emile Raphael Bourgeois in a ceremony, Friday evening, in St. Andrew's Cathedral. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Potter, 1520 Haultain Street, and her groom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. N. Bourgeois, Edmonton, Alta. Father M. Costello officiated, and Mrs. M. McKay played the Wedding March, and traditional music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a white lace over taffeta gown fashioned with a round neckline, a long full-length skirt, and long sleeves tapering into lily points at the wrists. Her long veil of white nylon illusion net was caught to a crown of pearls. Red roses and marguerites were in her bridal bouquet.

Maid-of-honor was Miss Shirley Anne LeCorre, and bridesmaid, Miss Rose Smith. Both wore ballerina length gowns topped with jackets featuring three-quarter-length sleeves. Their gowns were pink and blue, respectively. Both wore white headbands with decorations on one side, and carried bouquets of carnations and marguerites in tone with their dresses.

Best man was Paul Cook, and usher, Edward MacRitchie. A three-tier wedding cake decorated in white with pink rosebuds centred the bride's table at the reception which followed in Hampton Hall. Talisman roses in crystal vases, and pink candles in crystal holders flanked the cake. Pink, blue and white streamers cascaded around the bride and groom, and formed the decorations in the hall. The bride's brother, Donald Potter, proposed the toast to his sister's happiness.

For a honeymoon trip to be spent in Courtenay, the bride donned a light blue dress with white collar and cuffs, complemented with white accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses. Mr. and Mrs. Bourgeois will live at 1520 Haultain Street.

5,500 MILES FOR SICK MAN

Epic Rescue Flight Beats Arctic Gloom

EDMONTON (CP)—The pilot of an RCAF mercy plane today told how he ducked under a cloud layer only 50 feet above Arctic ice, landed on the slush and water-covered ice and snatched a government employee from Isachsen, a lonely Northwest Territories between the Arctic circle and the North Pole.

Ft. Lt. Al Richard and his crew arrived here at 6 a.m. today with 39-year-old James Dashney of North Bay, Ont. Dashney, suffering from acute appendicitis, now is being treated in hospital here.

The plane's crew had been up continuously for 24 hours and had flown 12 hours on the return leg of the journey from Isachsen to Edmonton with only one refuelling stop at Yellowknife, N. W. T.

LONGEST MERCY FLIGHT

The plane logged a total of 35 flying hours on the flight and travelled 4,200 miles to get the sick man to hospital. When the plane returns to its Whitehorse, Yukon, base it will have travelled almost 5,500 miles — the longest mercy flight in RCAF history.

The crew, which included Nursing Sister Edna Poirer of Summerside, P. E. I., had been grounded at Resolute Bay, 300 miles from Isachsen by thick low clouds.

"We got up at 6 a.m. Sunday and left Resolute for Isachsen at 11 a.m.," Richards said.

The cloud ceiling was 350 feet above the ice, so Richards made an approach into Isachsen on a radio beam. He was only 50 feet above the ice before he saw the makeshift runway.

A spray of ice-cold water and shuddering Dakota touched down on the melting ice. Employees at the joint Canadian-United States weather station said they didn't expect the ice would last another 12 hours.

Dashney was assisted into the Dakota and a half-hour later the plane was heading south.

Industrial Map To Be Published By City Chamber

Victoria Chamber of Commerce, as a move toward encouraging new industry, plans publication of a Greater Victoria map which shows districts suitable for industrial development.

Planned by the chamber's industrial group, it is now part way along with the chamber having a hand in a detailed map of undeveloped Esquimalt area, repaired by the municipality.

The map will be printed when Victoria and Saanich provide similar information.

"Oak Bay is out of the picture on this," Hector Cronin, chamber secretary, said today. "There are no industrial sites in that municipality."

Sox Stretch Lead In Island League

CHEMAINUS — Chemainus Red Sox stretched their lead in the mid-Island senior amateur baseball loop by walloping Port Alberni Cubs in both ends of a doubleheader.

Scores were 13-8 and 15-9.

Doug Brinham with a home run, triple, and double was the hitting star for the Red Sox in the first game, while Earl Patterson, with five hits in six times at bat, was the leading hitter in the nightcap.

Chemainus juniors, in a doubleheader at Nanaimo, whipped their hosts 13-7 and 8-4.

Montreal Airport Welcomes First German Airliner

MONTREAL (BUP)—The first German airliner to fly to Canada landed at Dorval airport near here at 10:18 a.m. (7:18 P.D.T.) today with 73 passengers who had been stranded in Britain by the stewards' and stevedores' strikes.

The super-Constellation was on a special charter flight for the Cunard line, a number of whose ships are strikebound at British docks.

U.K. Firm Ready To Insure Woman

LONDON (Reuters)—A British insurance company has agreed to insure an American woman waiting to fly to the planet Mars—but a clause in the policy reads "non-return is no proof of death."

LOOKING APPROVINGLY AT OFFICIAL RCN "CIVVY" TIE, which can be worn by all naval personnel—in or out of the service—is CPO T. A. Booth, who heads navy recruiting unit, Government Street.

In past many thought tie was for officers only, but navy officials emphasize it's for all personnel when in civilian clothes. The motif is small gold crowns and red maples on rich blue background. W. & J. Wilson, clothes, say tie is rapidly becoming popular. (Times photo.)

German Women Mob Peter Townsend At Race Meeting

NEUSS, Germany (AP)—RAF Group Capt. Peter Townsend finished second in an amateur horse race here Sunday and afterward was mobbed by feminine admirers seeking autographs.

Townsend, British air attaché at Brussels whose name has been linked romantically with Princess Margaret, rode his first race at a German track and placed two lengths behind the winner.

Townsend signed two or three pieces of paper thrust at him, then smilingly waved the others away.

But his admirers were not easily put off. Police finally had to clear a way for him from the paddock to his dressing room.

Townsend rode a four-year-old mare, Neu-Eversael, owned by Baron Fritz von Thyssen.

NOSY CREATURE

The coat-i mundi, a type of racoon, uses its long nose to dig up food.

FEARED TORNADO

"I dove-back in there and tried to save them, but I just couldn't find them."

Keeney said his wife awakened him about 4 a.m. and asked him to look at the threatening clouds. Afraid of a possible tornado, the couple and their children hurried to the storm cellar.

Keeney told reporters he was investigating a trickle of water into the cellar when he opened the door. There was a great rush of water.

"My wife and one of the babies were standing right there by me," he said. "I grabbed the baby and set her outside. When I turned back water was already almost up to the top of the cellar."

"The lantern went out and there was a lot of sticks and trash on top of the water. I tried to dive back into the cellar to find my babies, but I just couldn't get back far enough."

What Your Pains Mean

By DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic

And Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation

This is a different sort of medical series in that Dr. Alvarez not only describes the origin and meaning of many of your pains, but he also takes you, the reader, into his office and shows you how the internist's mind works as he tries to make a diagnosis and so he handles difficult patients.

HEADACHE AND MIGRAINE

The essential fact that we physicians should remember about migraine is that it is a hereditary disease—an entity by itself—which appears to be due to some sort of nervous storm in the brain. The abdominal disturbances associated with the headache are due apparently to the passage down the nerves of a sort of storm like that which goes down from the brain in cases of seasickness.

As one would expect, then, it is probably useless ever to look for the cause of the trouble in the chest or the abdomen. In 30 years I have never seen migraine cured by the removal of any abdominal organ, no matter how diseased. Time and again I have seen the attacks continue unchanged after the removal of a diseased gallbladder or appendix or womb.

Some readers may ask, "Well, how about the man? Don't they have migraine, too?" Yes, they inherit it as the women do, but usually they are able to stand it better than the women can.

In attacks they are not so badly prostrated and they usually keep at work. Fortunately, in them the tendency to headaches often fades out after the age of 30.

THE TREATMENT

There are two parts to the treatment of migraine: one, that of preventing the attacks or of lengthening the interval between them, and the other, that of aborting or lessening the severity of the attacks when they come.

The best and usually the only way of preventing the attacks is by teaching the patient, usually a woman, to get her brain into a less irritable state, either by getting out of some trying or fatiguing environment, or by avoiding worry, or by cutting down on the amount of work done, or in one way or another securing more rest and peace.

In my experience the usual drugs that depress or quiet the brain do not prevent the attacks from coming.

Patients with headache should always have the eyes examined carefully. Occasionally the correction of a muscle imbalance has helped in restoring a patient to health.

The first principle in treating an attack of migraine is to begin the minute the first signs appear. Once a sick headache is well under way it is usually harder to stop than if it were, so to speak, nipped in the bud. An important point to remember is that once nausea is present or vomiting has started, there is not much use in giving medicine by mouth because even if it were to be absorbed, it probably would not be absorbed. Hence, when an attack is well under way medicines must be given either hypodermically or by the rectum.

IN MILD CASES

In mild cases the patient may get relief if she will immediately take two tablets of aspirin, phenacetin, acetanilid or antipyrine, or 20 grains of sodium salicylate, or perhaps a dose of some saline laxative or a big cup of black coffee. All some persons need to do is to rest a bit or to lie down in a darkened room and get a nap. I have seen a few patients who get relief by putting the head under a cold shower or by taking 1/4000 grain of atropine or 10 mg. of benzadrine.

In bad cases there are only two drugs with which one can hope to abort an attack. One is ergotamine, or gynergen, which can be obtained in pills called Cafergot. Two should be taken together. For hypodermic use there are ampoules containing either half or one cubic centimeter of a solution of the drug. Usually the smaller size is enough. Persons who do not get much effect from taking the drug by mouth must take it hypodermically.

In about four out of five cases a migraine can be stopped with this drug. Many patients should be given a supply of the drug and a hypodermic syringe and taught how to use it and take care of it. This is particularly necessary when the attacks tend to come at three or four in the morning when it is hard to get a physician.

Some persons object to gynergen and refuse to use it because it produces unpleasant symptoms such as jitteriness, transient numbness and peculiar feelings in the legs, and perhaps vomiting. They should try a milder form of the drug called DHE 45. It should be injected.

Some persons can be helped with a rectal suppository containing three grains of Nembutal. The three-grain suppository is carried in stock by druggists. This sedative will quiet the nervous system; it may stop vomiting, and it may bring sleep.

Next: The Treatment of Nervous Persons. Why is there no real reason for a person to be ashamed of nervousness? How can a doctor get a patient to accept a diagnosis of nervousness? How can he be treated?

LOOKING APPROVINGLY AT OFFICIAL RCN "CIVVY" TIE, which can be worn by all naval personnel—in or out of the service—is CPO T. A. Booth, who heads navy recruiting unit, Government Street.

In past many thought tie was for officers only, but navy officials emphasize it's for all personnel when in civilian clothes. The motif is small gold crowns and red maples on rich blue background. W. & J. Wilson, clothes, say tie is rapidly becoming popular. (Times photo.)

German Women Mob Peter Townsend At Race Meeting

NEUSS, Germany (AP)—RAF Group Capt. Peter Townsend finished second in an amateur horse race here Sunday and afterward was mobbed by feminine admirers seeking autographs.

Townsend, British air attaché at Brussels whose name has been linked romantically with Princess Margaret, rode his first race at a German track and placed two lengths behind the winner.

Townsend signed two or three pieces of paper thrust at him, then smilingly waved the others away.

But his admirers were not easily put off. Police finally had to clear a way for him from the paddock to his dressing room.

Townsend rode a four-year-old mare, Neu-Eversael, owned by Baron Fritz von Thyssen.

NOSY CREATURE

The coat-i mundi, a type of racoon, uses its long nose to dig up food.

FEARED TORNADO

"I dove-back in there and tried to save them, but I just couldn't find them."

Keeney said his wife awakened him about 4 a.m. and asked him to look at the threatening clouds. Afraid of a possible tornado, the couple and their children hurried to the storm cellar.

Keeney told reporters he was investigating a trickle of water into the cellar when he opened the door. There was a great rush of water.

"My wife and one of the babies were standing right there by me," he said. "I grabbed the baby and set her outside. When I turned back water was already almost up to the top of the cellar."

"The lantern went out and there was a lot of sticks and trash on top of the water. I tried to dive back into the cellar to find my babies, but I just couldn't get back far enough."

5-Car Mainland Crash Sends 8 to Hospital

CHILLIWACK (CP)—Eight persons were injured 20 miles east of here Sunday evening in a spectacular five-car crash that left automobile parts scattered for hundreds of yards over the road. The injured, one in serious condition, are in Chilliwack hospital.

FRANCE BACKS FAURE IN SENATE ELECTIONS

PARIS (UP)—The Radical Socialist party of Premier Edgar Faure and ex-premier Mendes-France today hailed the results of Sunday's senatorial elections as a vote of confidence in the government.

The Radical Socialists were the biggest winners in the election, which renewed half the Upper House seats. The Communists, whose efforts to woo the Socialists were rebuffed, lost one of their three seats at stake. The Gaullists lost four of 13 seats in metropolitan France.

ACROSS THE PROVINCE

First B.C. Fluoridation Starts at Smithers Tuesday

SMITHERS (CP)—This Bulkley valley centre of north-central B.C. will be the first community in the province to adopt fluoridation of its water supply. Village commissioners announced the fluoridation equipment would go into operation Tuesday. Prince George, 250 miles east of Smithers, has announced it will follow soon and will be the first city in B.C. to add fluoride to drinking water.

PENTICTON (CP)—Hearings of the Sloan royal commission inquiring into the lumbering industry will open at Penticton Tuesday. Chief Justice Gordon Sloan, who is conducting the inquiry, postponed the session from Monday to attend the funeral in Vancouver of Chief Justice Wendell B. Farris. The commission sits at Kamloops June 24, 27 and 28.

PENTICTON (CP)—A $1,000,000 tourist resort is being developed on the east shore of Skaha lake, some 10 miles from Penticton. At least 30 luxury homes are planned for the 30-acre site with 1,300 feet of waterfront.

KAMLOOPS (CP)—A four-ton hippopotamus, en route to the Kamloops fire department. The animal, on loan to the Shriners from a California zoo, will be used in a name-seeking contest at Anchorage.

4-Man Raft Starts Tuesday On North Atlantic Crossing

QUEBEC (CP)—Tuesday has been set as the departure date for a raft and four young adventurers who hope to cross the Atlantic with the help of the Gulf stream and favorable winds. Announcing the date Sunday night, skipper Henri Beaudout also squelched reports that there is dissension between him and the others, which might force cancellation of the trip. "My friends and I are still determined to go through with our plans to cross the North Atlantic—there is no question of separating," he said.

This '55 Buick must have something that folks just won't do without!

PICK YOUR CAR NOW FROM THE HOTTEST-SELLING BUICKS IN HISTORY

Illustrated: Buick SPECIAL 2-Door Riviera A GENERAL MOTORS VALUE

Two months ago, in the public print, we said that this looks like Buick's biggest year—and we weren't fooling.

But what has happened—and continues to happen—is almost beyond belief.

People buy up these stunning new Buicks practically as fast as we get them from the factory. Buick production—already revised upward several times—keeps forging ahead to new highs every month to meet the mounting demand.

And Buick sales keep soaring higher and higher—and higher—out-stripping by far the phenomenal success of last year—the success that moved Buick into the Top Ranks of Canada's best sellers.

What is it about the '55 Buicks that folks by the thousands just won't do without? It's many things.

It's styling that's boldly distinctive and fresh as tomorrow. It's beauty of line and beauty of interior décor. It's a ride that's level, firm and steady. It's a new sweetness of handling. It's great power—walloping new V8 power of record might.

But above all, it's a new kind of performance, from a new kind of automatic transmission that was born of flight thinking.

It's Variable Pitch Dynaflo automatic transmission—engineered from the principle of the modern plane's switch-pitch propeller—and what it brings you in the way of pure thrill, mere words can't describe.

Just you drop in on us this very week and try it. That way you can see what a terrific automobile—and a terrific buy—the hottest-selling Buick of all time really is.

³Dynaflo Drive automatic transmission is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

22 DROWN ON GROUNDED LANDING CRAFT

OUISTREHAM, France (AP)—Mountainous waves spilled over a small converted landing craft 300 yards off this Normandy beach Saturday killing 22 French tourists, including four children.

Witnesses said all could have walked ashore if they had jumped into the sea only a few seconds earlier. The craft was grounded on a sand beach and water barely reached the waistline at that time.

Polio Experts Advise Shots During Summer

NEW YORK (AP)—A group of leading American polio experts has advised that children be given anti-polio shots during the summer months, even though it is the peak season for the disease.

After a weekend conference called by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis to determine whether to continue injections during the summer, the authorities issued a statement saying:

"The slight hazard of provocation causing paralysis is insufficient to limit the injection of poliomyelitis vaccine even in the presence of a rising incidence of poliomyelitis in the community."

Among 30 persons on the board of experts were the United States surgeon-general, Dr. Leonard Scheele; Dr. Jonas Salk, who developed the vaccine; and Dr. Thomas Francis of the University of Michigan, who directed analysis of last year's vaccine field tests.

Cheminus Flower Show Saturday

CHEMINUS — The annual flower show sponsored by the Cheminus Garden Club will be held in the large hall of the Community Centre Saturday.

The show will be opened officially at 2.30 Saturday afternoon, and trophies and special prizes will be presented at 8 p.m. There will be 32 general and 21 decorative sections in the show this year. In addition to the 11 trophies and special awards, cash prizes amounting to nearly $50 will be presented to various divisional winners and runners-up.

Garagemen Win Boost Of 8.5 Cents

Victoria city garage workers won most contract demands in negotiations with local operators completed at the week-end with a conciliation report recommending 40-hour weekly guarantee and wage boosts for all categories.

Journeyman machinists, auto mechanics, body men, welders and firemen of Automotive Workers' Union (TLC) receive an 8½-cent-an-hour increase, bringing them to $1.78½.

Mechanics' helpers will get from $1.12 to $1.50 over 27 months and all hourly-rated workers will get 10 cents an hour night shift differential.

Lubrication men and car washers were granted a rate between $1.06½ to $1.36½.

All were granted two weeks' holiday after two years' service.

Weekly rates range from $24.50 to $31 for car jockeys; $38.50 to $68 for parts men, and $59.60 to $73.50 for service salesmen.

New scales are retroactive to May 1, and generally speaking set the trend for repair shops outside the Automobile Dealers' Association.

SALK-SHOT CHILDREN BOYCOTTED AT SCHOOL

FRANKLIN LAKES, N.J. (AP)—Eight youngsters who received Salk anti-polio vaccine shots have been asked by the board of education here to stay away from school for the remainder of the term.

The board's action followed reports that parents of other pupils would keep their children home, fearing the inoculated children might be polio carriers.

PM, Premiers Open Talks On Jobless Relief

Progress Reported After First Session

BY JOHN LEBLANC

OTTAWA (CP)—Federal and provincial authorities met today in a conference on jobless relief but reached no conclusions at a morning meeting.

Information said the first session was devoted to hearing an outline from Prime Minister St. Laurent of a federal proposal for sharing in relief costs and to subsequent presentation of the views of all provinces.

Asked by reporters to comment on the morning meeting, Mr. St. Laurent said:

"We just talked."

STRETCHES INTO TUESDAY

The conference recessed at 1 p.m. to resume at 2:30 p.m. It likely will stretch into Tuesday.

Persons attending the conference said Mr. St. Laurent set out a federal plan whereby the central treasury would help in the cost of relief above a floor of 1 per cent of the population—150,000—regarded as normally unemployed for physical reasons.

The federal share would start at 30 per cent of the cost and rise to a maximum of 50 per cent as unemployment intensified.

Conferees said the initial meeting was conducted in an atmosphere of amicability. There was no attempt to nail down an agreement at this meeting, which was confined to a preliminary expression of views.

MAKE GOOD START
Premier Bennett of British Columbia said there was a good start and a good approach at the meeting.

B.C. Traffic Death

CHILLIWACK (BUP)—Thomas Pickering, 40, South Burnaby, died early Sunday when his car went out of control on the Trans-Canada Highway near here and hit a telephone pole.

Police said his wife suffered only minor injuries.

Ike Calls on World To Still the Guns

U.S. Leader in New Appeal for Peace Before Anniversary Meeting of UN

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—President Eisenhower today called on East and West to still their guns and dismantle "the terrible apparatus of fear and distrust and weapons" erected since the Second World War.

Mr. Eisenhower appeared at the start of a 10th anniversary meeting of the United Nations here where the UN was born in 1945.

The president's address also was a prelude to the July meeting of the Big Four—U.S., Great Britain, France and Russia—in Switzerland.

Mr. Eisenhower proposed as man's objective for the next decade a new kind of peace, a new kind of world thinking.

"In that life the atom, dedicated once as man's slayer, will become his most productive servant," he said. "It will be a peace to inspire confidence and faith so that all peoples will be released from the dread fear of war. Scientists will be liberated to work always for men, never against them."

In the president's audience in the San Francisco opera house today was V. M. Molotov, the Russian foreign minister and a long-standing opponent of Western policies.

The president made no direct reference to Russian policy, nor did he refer to communism. But he said that the United States and "a majority of all nations" were united in the hope that every government would abstain from subversion, coercion, infiltration or destruction of other governments.

RESPECT FOR OTHERS

"We, with the rest of the world, know that a nation's vision of peace cannot be attained through any race in armaments," Mr. Eisenhower said in his prepared text. "The munitions of peace are justice, honesty, mutual understanding and respect for others."

Early in his speech, he pointed out that within a month, there would be a Big Four meeting.

"Whether or not we shall then reach the initial decisions that will start dismantling the terrible apparatus of fear and mistrust and weapons erected since the end of the Second World War, I do not know," he said.

The president said that the success of the conference would require that "every individual at that meeting" must be loyal to the spirit of the United Nations.

MARGARET SURPRISED?

'H.R.H. Honey' Just 'Ma'am' to Danny

HONEY?

NO MA'AM!

LONDON (UP)—Danny Kaye today denied reports he had called Princess Margaret "Honey."

The allegation was made by Sunday Pictorial columnist Rex North who headlined his outraged dispatch "H.R.H. Honey."

Even the princess's best friends call her "Your Royal Highness" or "Ma'am"—including her male escorts.

But columnist North said comedian Kaye greeted her backstage at the Palladium with such a familiar word as honey—"I know better than that. I call the princess 'Ma'am.'"

"Why they drag things up like that I don't know," he said. "It's not funny."

Not only that, he said, but "these silly rumors annoy me."

Kaye has long been on comparatively intimate terms with the princess—he has danced with her and given command performances. She has often called him her favorite entertainer.

The columnist commented: "In my view there are times when it is permissible to call a woman honey—if you happen to know the sort of doesn't mind this sort of saccharine sweet endearment."

"There are other moments in history, when speaking quite personally, I would address the young lady concerned as Ma'am. The moment would have been at the theater after the show."

"I should add that in America any woman of any rank who has been met socially a few times is almost automatically a honey."

Peron to Quit Argentina Dictatorship?

Just 'Figurehead' In New Army Junta Says N.Y. Times

NEW YORK (CP)—The New York Times says the fall of Juan Peron as "dictator" of Argentina may take place in "a matter of hours."

This was the indication the Times gained in a telephone conversation Sunday with its correspondent in Buenos Aires, Edward A. Morrow, it says in a front-page report.

"General Peron's resignation was expected Saturday night but did not materialize," Morrow reported. "Gen. Franklin Lucero, army minister, is acting as spokesman for the government and appears to have taken over the reins, he added."

"In any new government that might be formed, Mr. Morrow said, Peron probably would retain his title as president but would be reduced to a figurehead."

A junta to take over the government appeared to be in the making, The Times says. It probably would be headed by Lucero, former Argentine delegate to the United Nations General Assembly.

"The stumbling block to the establishment of a junta, which would include leaders of the army, the navy, Mr. Morrow said, was the present ruling army command negotiating with the navy to effect a governing coalition."

2 Years for Drugs

VANCOUVER (BUP)—Possession of more than 50 capsules of drugs resulted in a two-year prison sentence being imposed on Arthur F. Walton, a waiter, in city police court today.

U.K. DOCKERS BACK; SEAMEN STILL OUT

(From AP and UP Dispatches)

LONDON—Striking dockers in the port of London today ended their five-week wildcat strike, and there were signs of an early end to the seamen's strike clogging trans Atlantic liners in other major ports.

The Eden government, spurred by fears the dollar-earning tourist trade will be ruined, warned draft-age crewmen they'll lose army deferment if they don't return to their jobs. At Liverpool, a good many returned to their ships during the day.

In a similar move, Cunard sued strike leaders for loss of revenue.

Cunard hopes to break the strike before the giant Queen Elizabeth docks at Southampton tonight from New York.

2-Year Truce On Wages for IWA, Fishmen

Loggers Get 5c Each Year; Salmon Price at 24c Pound

By DAVE STOCK

British Columbia's bread-winning industries—forests and fisheries—are assured of labor peace during the next two years.

Contracts running into 1957 were negotiated during the week-end on behalf of 32,000 loggers and 6,000 salmon fishermen.

The International Woodworkers of America (IWA) and the United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union (UFAW) settled with representatives of 168 coast operators by agreeing to a two-year contract providing woodsmen with a five-cent-an-hour wage hike this year, retroactive to June 15, and another five cents in June, 1956.

The negotiating committee of the United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union (UFAW) settled with the cannery companies on the basis of a two-cent-a-pound increase for sockeye salmon. The increase puts the price at 24 cents a pound and marks the first time the industry has negotiated a salmon-price contract exceeding a year.

Both loggers and fishermen have to vote this week to ratify the settlements reached by their negotiators and passage is regarded as a certainty.

The two industries covered by the new agreements contribute about $600,000,000 a year to B.C.'s economy. Lumbering last year yielded $527,000,000. The fishing industry, including the fisheries besides salmon, had a record harvest value of $72,000,000.

The new IWA contract provides loggers with one extra statutory holiday with pay—Dominion Day—this year, and another—New Year's Day—next year.

Employees, of which there are 1,600 in the Victoria area represented by local 1-118, International Woodworkers of America, asked for a 10 cents an hour across the board wage hike, three additional paid statutory holidays, medical health plan, social pay, fare allowance and other changes.

Present basic rate of pay in the lumber industry is $1.49. There has been no strike in the B.C. forest since 1952.

Satisfaction in the assurance of "peace in the coastal lumber industry for at least two years," was expressed by labor minister Lyle Wicks on behalf of the government.

Blood-Soaked Car Found in Vancouver —But No Victim

VANCOUVER (CP)—A mystery car, its upholstery soaked in blood, was found abandoned in wooded Stanley Park here early today, wrapped around a tree.

Police said the river apparently had been thrown through the windshield but that no one had been admitted to hospital from the wreck scene.

At home the town druggist's wife and two daughters, Donna, nine, and Barbara, four, were watching the swirling mass overhead.

The sky grew blacker as Bill and Mirron reached the house. Suddenly Bill spotted a long waving finger dangling from the cloud mass.

"It's a tornado!" he shouted to his family.

Mirron drew the drapes across the living room window. His mother grabbed a fern and walked over to set it on the sofa.

Giant Wind Injures 30, Levels School, Homes In 2 Terrible Minutes

By WALTER GRAY, Canadian Press Staff Writer

VITA, Man. (CP)—A giant finger of wind dropped from cloud-blackened skies Sunday and in two terrible minutes tore the heart out of this southeastern Manitoba farming community.

In that space of time, at least 30 terrified residents were injured.

Six or more homes were destroyed. A six-roomed school collapsed in a jagged heap of brick and wood. A 25-bed hospital, the town's only hotel, bakery, church mission, drug store and church were badly damaged.

What was left of a general store and three of the homes were burned to the ground. A funeral parlor, vanished. A lumber yard was scattered for blocks. Cars were upended on the street. Trees were uprooted. The town of 400 lay helpless for hours, its contact with the rest of the world silenced by shattered communications.

Throughout the night police and volunteer workers probed the darkness with flashlights, checking tottering buildings for any other persons who might have been missed in earlier confusion.

The RCMP turned back hundreds of sightseers at the outskirts of this town 50 miles southwest of Winnipeg as the search went on.

Fire Sweeps Shattered Homes

At the end of one street the hospital stood in the dark, its roof caved in, its windows shattered.

Ten patients and the hospital staff who were in the building when the rare prairie tornado struck at 4:30 p.m. apparently escaped injury. The home of Dr. H. V. Waldon and the United Church mission house next to it were badly damaged.

Next, the lumber yard—a confusing woodpile. The new school—a jagged mound of debris.

Fire broke out in the shattered shell that was the home of Nick Padloski—10 hours later and volunteer firemen, with no water at hand, were forced to rip out the burning wood and toss it to the ground.

The chimney stood in a bed of embers, all that remained of John Propbianske's home. Another pile of embers was what was left of Mat Bodnarchuk's house. It was the same with Alex Pidlubny.

Tony Smyrlichinsky's warehouse just disappeared. So did Loeven's funeral parlour.

At the south end of the street the three-story Vita hotel and the Greek Orthodox church stood brokenly. There were no bakery walls but Modest Kadymink's oven was there, the partly-baked bread still inside.

In the early-morning hours a few of the dazed residents stood by the wreckage, quietly trying to recall those terrible two minutes of hell, screaming winds and flying daggers of glass and wood.

Frame House Tossed 30 Feet

Roy Ridley, 31-year-old bus driver, his wife and two children, Cynthia, 3, and Rodney, 2, were in their home when the tornado struck. The frame house was lifted into the air, tossed 70 feet and then dropped in a heap.

The family was pulled from the wreckage by rescue crews. Mr. Ridley is in Winnipeg General Hospital with head, back and arm injuries. Mrs. Ridley, in hospital at nearby Steinbach, suffered bruises and lacerations. Rodney suffered facial bruises and Cynthia head injuries. Both were in satisfactory condition in Morris hospital.

Mike Sandel, about 75, was in his home when it was blown apart. Mr. Sandel was found in his garden with shoulder and spinal injuries. He was taken to Morris. Also in Morris hospital is 14-year-old Jean Cernistuk who suffered an arm injury.

Modest Kadymink ran from the hotel to his bakery next door to warn his four employees. He herded them into the cellar just before the building collapsed.

Restaurant operator John Bodnarchuk was serving customers when he saw the funnel-shaped cloud "with clouds around it swirling like crazy" roaring down the street. He hid behind a refrigerator as a wooden beam crashed through the window and flying debris filled the store.

Battered Town Isolated 3 Hours

Mat Fostie, a Vita truck driver, took the first news of the disaster to the outside world. He drove to M. Harbul's store, eight miles west and asked Mrs. Harbul to telephone the RCMP saying the town desperately needed a fire truck, ambulance and other help. The first police arrived on the scene about three hours after the tornado struck.

Meanwhile, at Winnipeg, Manitoba Red Cross officials said the organization had been put on the alert by the RCMP and was ready to supply emergency housing, food, clothing and medical services if required.

Vancouver Kills Job Relief Plan

VANCOUVER (BUP)—City council decided today to cut off all relief payments July 15 for more than 3,000 unemployed single men.

Aldermen were told that the plan would cost the city

$38,000 since the start of the year although only $15,000 had been allotted for the program.

Mr. A. C. Bennett had refused to consider proposals for a work program for the single unemployed.

SAT TERRIFIED IN THE DARKNESS

Family Prayed for Assistance As Wind Ripped Home Apart

By WALTER GRAY

VITA, Man. (CP)—Ugly, black clouds swept over the horizon and blotted out the sun. Bill Wakimischak and his 13-year-old son Mirron decided to short their Father's Day fishing expedition on the Red River and hurry home to Vita, nine miles away.

At home the town druggist's wife and two daughters, Donna, nine, and Barbara, four, were watching the swirling mass overhead.

The sky grew blacker as Bill and Mirron reached the house. Suddenly Bill spotted a long waving finger dangling from the cloud mass.

"It's a tornado!" he shouted to his family.

Mirron drew the drapes across the living room window. His mother grabbed a fern and walked over to set it on the sofa.

"It all happened in a split second," said Mrs. Wakimischak. "The next thing I knew I was under the kitchen table, my hands and knees bleeding, and screaming."

Bill was struck by a flying kitchen chair. Barbara was cut on the forehead by what she thought was a piece of the living room window. Donna and Mirron were bleeding about the head.

Somehow, Mr. Sakimischak grabbed his wife and children and pushed them into the cellar.

The family sat terrified in the darkness as their house shook over their head.

Barbara felt the blood trickling down her face and said: "Oh won't you take me to the hospital?"

Donna prayed: "Oh please God, why don't you help me? Why don't you help me?"

Suddenly it grew deathly still. The Wakimischaks waited a few moments, then climbed the cellar stairs. They were awed and sick at the sight.

The walls of the house were still standing, the roof was still on but not a window was left. The furniture was smashed and overturned. What was still in one piece they moved outside.

They joined their friends and neighbors in disbelief. Bill crawled into the remains of his drug store and retrieved bandages and antiseptics for the wounded.

Help finally arrived. The Wakimischaks were driven to the Steinbach hospital for treatment. But none stayed long. By late Sunday night they returned to Vita for another look. After midnight they drove to stay with friends who escaped with lesser damage.

"As long as we have a roof over our head, we'll feel lucky," said Mrs. Wakimischak.

What was left of a general store and three of the homes were burned to the ground. A funeral parlor vanished. A lumber yard was scattered for blocks. Cars were upended on the street. Trees were uprooted.

The town of 400 lay helpless for hours, its contact with the rest of the world silenced by shattered communications.

Throughout the night police and volunteer workers probed the darkness with flashlights, checking tottering buildings for any other persons who might have been missed in earlier confusion.

The RCMP turned back hundreds of sightseers at the outskirts of this town 50 miles southwest of Winnipeg as the search went on.

At the end of one street the hospital stood in the dark; its roof caved in, its windows shattered. Ten patients and the hospital staff who were in the building when the rare prairie tornado struck at 4:30 p.m. apparently escaped injury. The home of Dr. H. V. Walden and the United Church mission house next to it were badly damaged.

Next, the lumber yard—a confusing woodpile. The Shewchew.

PM, Premiers Open Talk on Jobless Aid

BY JOHN LEBLANC

OTTAWA (CP)—Federal and provincial authorities met today in a conference on jobless relief but reached no conclusions at a morning meeting.

Information said the first session was devoted to hearing an outline from Prime Minister St. Laurent of a federal proposal for sharing in relief costs and to subsequent presentation of the views of all provinces.

Persons attending the conference said Mr. St. Laurent set out a federal plan whereby the central treasury would help in the cost of relief above a floor of 1 per cent of the population—150,000—regarded as normally unemployed for physical reasons.

The federal share would start at 30 per cent of the cost and rise to a maximum of 50 per cent as unemployment intensified.

Premier Bennett of British Columbia said there was a good start and a good approach at the meeting.

Off to London To Be the Queen?

Victoria's May Queen, pretty Doreen Wells, is packing her bags for the Miss Canada contest in London, Ont., which she will attend next week. She was chosen "the most beautiful of them all" at the Junior Chamber of Commerce fair here a short time ago. Jaycees are paying her way, via TCA, to the national contest. She leaves later this week. Ike Calls on World To Still Its Guns

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—President Eisenhower today called on East and West to still their guns and dismantle "the terrible apparatus of fear and distrust and weapons" erected since the Second World War.

Mr. Eisenhower appeared at the start of a 10th anniversary meeting of the United Nations here where the UN was born in 1945.

The president's address also was a prelude to the July meeting of the Big Four—U.S., Great Britain, France and Russia—in Switzerland.

Mr. Eisenhower proposed as man's objective for the next decade a new kind of peace, a new kind of world thinking.

"In that life the atom, dedicated once as man's slayer, will become his most productive servant," he said. "It will be a peace to inspire confidence and faith so that all peoples will be released from the dread fear of war. Scientists will be liberated to work always for men, never against them."

In the president's audience in the San Francisco opera house today was V. M. Molotov, the Russian foreign minister and a long-standing opponent of Western policies.

The president made no direct reference to Russian policy, nor did he refer to communism. But he said that the United States and "a majority of all nations" were united in the hope that every government would abstain from subversion, coercion, infiltration or destruction of other governments.

Peron Faces Ouster

3-Man Junta May Take Over

NEW YORK (CP)—The New York Times says the fall of Juan Peron as "dictator" of Argentina may take place in "a matter of hours."

This was the indication the Times gained in a telephone conversation Sunday with its correspondent in Buenos Aires, Edward A. Morrow, who says in a front-page report.

"General Peron's resignation was expected Saturday night but did not materialize," Morrow reported. "Gen. Franklin Lucero, army minister, is acting as spokesman for the government and appears to have taken over the reins, he added."

"In any new government that might be formed, Mr. Morrow said, Peron probably would retain his title as president but would be reduced to a figurehead."

A junta to take over the government appeared to be in the making, The Times says. It probably would be headed by Lucero, former Argentine delegate to the United Nations General Assembly.

"The stumbling block to the establishment of a junta, which would include leaders of all branches of the armed services, was the navy. Mr. Morrow said the present ruling army command was negotiating with the navy to effect a governing coalition."

Chrysler Closed Down

WINDSOR, Ont. (UP)—A wildcat walkout of skilled workers closed down all operations of the Chrysler of Canada Company today.

The strike by tradesmen reported to be disgruntled over wage differentials and job-training programs, caused 3,500 workers to be idle.

2 Years' Peace Assured In B.C.'s Big Industries

By DAVE STOCK

British Columbia's bread-winning industries—forests and fisheries—are assured of labor peace during the next two years.

Contracts running into 1957 were negotiated during the week-end on behalf of 32,000 loggers and 6,000 salmon fishermen.

The International Woodworkers of America (C.I.O.) concluded three weeks' negotiation with representatives of 168 coast operators by agreeing to a two-year contract providing woodsmen with a five-cent-an-hour wage hike this year, retroactive to June 15, and another five cents in June, 1956.

The new IWA contract provides loggers with one extra statutory holiday with pay—Dominion Day—this year, and another—New Year's Day—next year.

Employees, of which there are 1,600 in the Victoria area represented by local 1-118 International Woodworkers of America, asked for a 10 cents pound increase for sockeye salmon. The increase puts the price at 24 cents a pound and marks the first time the industry has negotiated a salmon-price contract exceeding a year.

Both loggers and fishermen have to vote this week to ratify the settlements reached by their negotiators and passage is regarded as a certainty.

A token strike ordered by the fishermen's union Saturday was called off and boats will put out for the opening of the fishing season Sunday.

The two industries covered by the new agreements contribute about $600,000,000 a year to B.C.'s economy. Lumbering last year yielded $27,000,000. The fishing industry, including the fisheries besides salmon, had a record harvest value of $72,000,000.
